TWO VITAL PORTS ARE WITHIN EASY GRASP

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 7.—(P)—American patrols reached Domfront today, broadening to a 50-mile front Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's new battering ram headed toward Paris, 140 miles away, which the Germans were reported evacuating.

British troops on a two-mile front cut a great wedge across the Orne river in a new threat from the northeast against Paris. Driving into the western fringes of the Cinglais forest, the British threatened to outflank the German defenses on the vital Caen "hinge."

BATTLE RAGES WITHIN CITY OF FLORENCE

Big German Shells Continue To Land in South Portion Of Historic Italian Art Center

10,000 ARE CAPTURED

Rome, Aug. 7.—(P)—Big German shells continued to land today in the southern portions of Florence, which is in Allied hands, but Sir Harold Alexander's headquarters announced "there will be no need for the city itself to become a battlefield."

An Allied headquarters communiqué said South African troops had made contact with the enemy in the northern portions of the Arno river within Florence.

The Allied command announced more than 50,000 prisoners had been taken by the Fifth and Eighth armies in the offensive from Cassino to Florence. The total might have been higher but for Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's decision to blow up Florence's bridges.

An enemy officer who deserted to the Allied lines said the German command had recently stressed the importance of avoiding the "same mistake as in Rome, by leaving the blowing up of bridges until it was too late."

Close pursuit in Rome foiled Nazi intentions of demolishing the city's bridges.

Both east and west of Florence, the Eighth Army was mopping up the few enemy footholds left on the south bank of the Arno.

Indian and British units made advances despite stubborn resistance in the rough country northwest of Arezzo. In the upper Tiber valley northwest of Umbertide, an Spolcoro and San Giustino were cleared of the enemy.

Poles on the Adriatic sector made contact with the Nazis on a 20-mile front in the high ground in front of the Cesano river, 38 miles below Rimini.

BULLETINS

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Acting Secretary of State Stettinius announced today that the post-war security talks have been postponed until August 21 at the request of Russia.

Gen. Stilwell's Headquarters in India, Aug. 7.—(P)—Although Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill has been transferred to a post in Kandy because of ill health, his famous American infantry force known as Merrill's Marauders "is still fighting 'somewhere in the field'" in Burma, an official announcement said yesterday.

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Price ceilings as low as $1.89 each for maternity dresses and $1.05 for maternity slips were ordered by the office of Price Administration today on garments produced according to government specifications in the program to boost supplies of those scarce items.

Moscow, Aug. 7.—(P)—American heavy bombers from England with Mustang escorts attacked a German aircraft factory yesterday in Rammeln, ten miles northwest of the Polish port of Gdynia, and landed on Russian bases without loss.

Lancaster Visited By Severe Storm

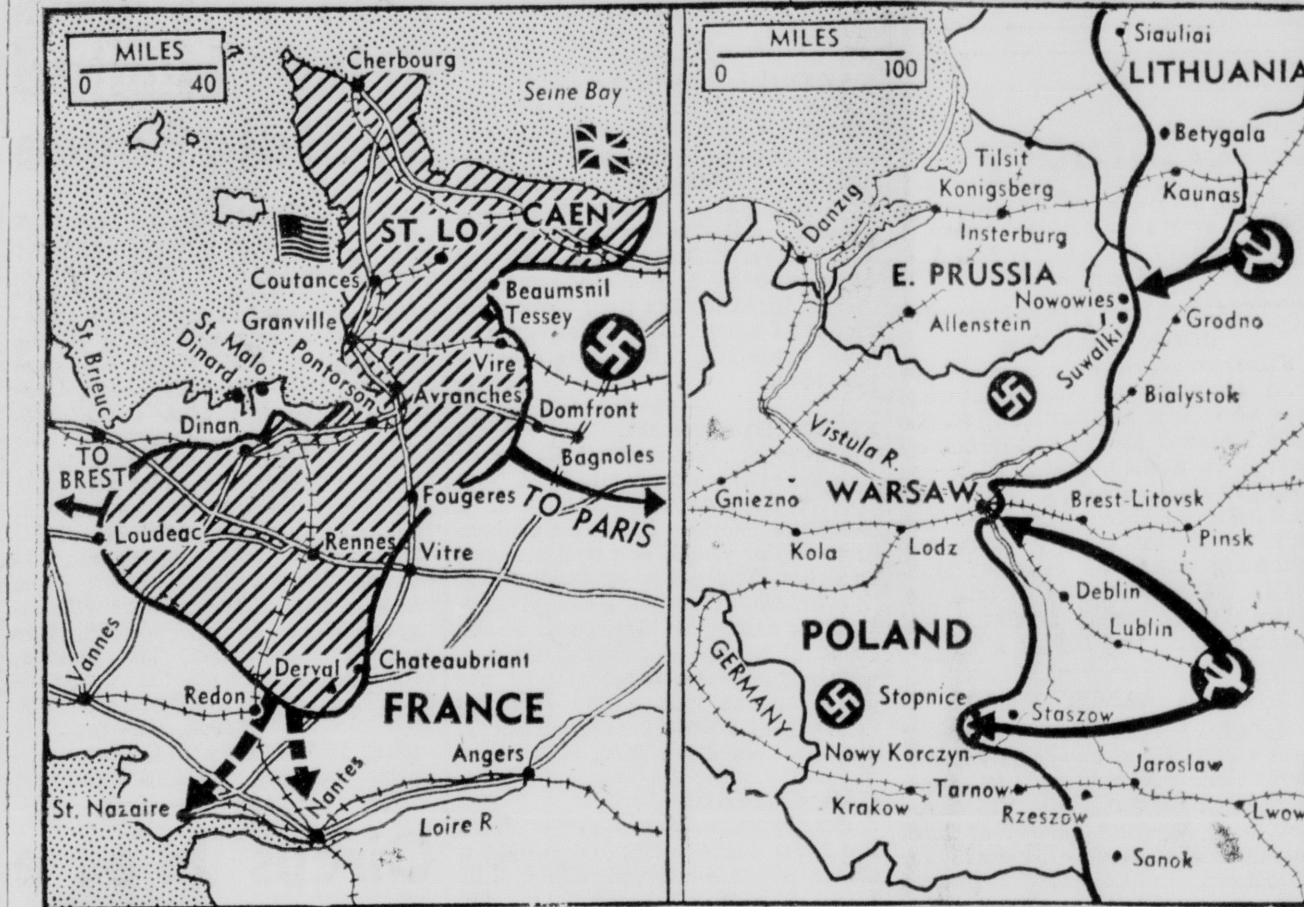

Lancaster, Aug. 7.—(P)—Roofs were torn from three homes, power lines went down, railroad underpasses were flooded, and streets were littered with uprooted trees as an electric storm accompanied by strong winds struck Lancaster today.

Intermittent storms over the week-end in the area caused an $18,000 fire and brought injury to four persons. Lightning struck a barn at the home of Norman Zeager, near Elizabethtown, destroying it and crops, livestock and farm implements in it.

Albert W. Keppel, 22, Millersville, and his 19-month-old son, Albert, Jr., were injured when they were struck by a car as they left a bus and ran in front of it across the road near their home at the height of the storm Saturday.

Allied Vise Is Biting Into Two Fronts

On two fronts the Allied vise is biting into German-held soil: In France the Americans are swooping down on St. Nazaire and Nantes and moving westward in upper Brittany toward Brest as well as eastward toward Paris from pivotal Avranches; on the Polish front the Reds are striking at Krakow from the Vistula bridgehead gains, and poised along a 100-mile front to move into East Prussia.

Eleven Red Armies Hammer At Steel Foundations Of East Wall Based On Krakow

Moscow, Aug. 7.—(P)—Eleven Russian army groups hammered with artillery and bombers today at the steel foundations of Germany's east wall based on Krakow, Warsaw and the forested border of East Prussia, encountering the toughest opposition in the 46-day summer offensive.

Toward the southern extremity of the 1,200-mile meandering front, the Russians captured the oil and communications center of Drohobycz, chasing the Germans in a bloody

Invasion Beach Now One Of Greatest Ports

By HENRY B. JAMESON

Invasion Beach, France, Aug. 7.—(P)—Both water and land traffic in this—now one of the world's greatest ports—is controlled from towers similar to those used at airports to direct plane movements.

The work goes on 24 hours a day. During darkness communications are maintained over walkie-talkies. Big freighters unload their cargoes into docks, landing craft and barges.

In the crown's nest, constructed on top of the concrete foundation of a German 88 MM. gun, sit Lt. Col. Jacob Mottorn of Punksutawney, Pa.

Commander of one of the combat engineer beach groups that handles the transfer of the cargo from the ships to inland supply dumps, he came in early on D-Day.

"Eighty-two men from my brigade were killed or wounded that day," Mottorn said.

There are no big buildings, docks or piers but this harbor is capable of handling a bigger daily tonnage than the port of New York. It is just a beach a half mile wide that has been turned into one of the main lifelines of the American army in France.

Fort Pitt Area Tops Bond Drive

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(P)—The 19-county Fort Pitt area went "over the top" by $57,677,598 in the Fifth War Loan drive, final tabulations by the War Finance Committee revealed today.

Total sale of $392,592,098 was 117 per cent of the quota of $334,914,500, the report showed. However, individual bond purchases of $134,885,094 were two per cent less than the quota of $157,990,069, and "E" bond purchases of $76,269,007 were one per cent under the $77,168,000 quota.

A total of 2,511,744 bonds was purchased during the two-month drive, compared to 2,392,290 in the Fourth War Loan drive, the report showed.

"Trolley Fatigue" is Troubling Soldiers

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(P)—"Trolley fatigue" was the worst troubler for the soldiers guarding Philadelphia's trolleys, buses and elevated and subway trains today.

Twelve hours or more of guard duty in sweltering heat, carrying full battle equipment, including steel helmet, pack and rifle, left them worn and bedraggled before relief arrived.

"You get bounced around so much," said one G. I., "you feel like the original jumping bean."

Fight Looms Over Bills On Re conversion

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Congress comes to grips this week with reversion legislation, with a states' rights fight brewing in the senate on unemployment compensation and house Republicans condemning what they called an "accent on unemployment rather than on ways of creating employment."

The fireworks will be touched off in the senate Tuesday when the Murray-Truman-Kilgore unemployment bill and a rival measure by Senator George (D-Ga.) come up for debate.

At issue is the amount to be paid, and who shall pay it. While unemployment legislation has the right of way on the senate floor—there is no business before the house proper this week—committees in both branches expect to report.

Resistance In India Lessens

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Aug. 7.—(P)—British forces pursuing the Japanese beyond the captured Burmese frontier base of Tamu found no organized resistance today and they captured prisoners described officially as "in a shocking state."

In the ruins of captured Myittha, long besieged base in north Burma which Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell captured last week, piles of Japanese bodies were being buried.

First troops entering Tamu reported finding more than 200 Japanese dead or dying from wounds and starvation in the nearby village of Basha.

From the Magaung front in northern Burma came word that Lt. en. Joseph Stilwell's forces had captured an important hill 12 miles southwest of that town after overcoming bitter enemy resistance along the Mandalay railway.

Army Spokesman Reports That Service in Philadelphia is 100 Per Cent Normal

NEGRO IS SENT HOME

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The army restored normal transportation service in Philadelphia today and fired four leaders of the unauthorized walkout that gave the nation's second largest city a "nightmare week," cut war production and caused racial violence.

An army spokesman reported that at 10:30 a. m. service was "100 per cent normal," with every vehicle moving on schedule and soldiers guarding every vehicle."

The strike leaders were discharged as they reported for work. The four, James H. McMenamin, Frank P. Carney, William C. Dixey and Frank Thompson, are free on $2,500 bonds pending hearings August 14 on charges of violating the Smith-Connally Act.

Only 13 of the Philadelphia Transportation Company's 6,000 operating employees failed to report at their scheduled time, an army spokesman said, adding "it is not yet known how many of them will be able to present medical certificates of illness to excuse their absence."

Dewey Gives Attention To Senate Race

Pawling, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, refreshed after 36 hours of loafing on his 468-acre farm here in the Berkshire foothills, returns to Albany today to take a hand in choosing the Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from New York.

On the eve of the nomination, to be made by the Republican state committee here tomorrow, the post was still open with leaders waiting to confer with the Republican presidential nominee.

Dewey, who arrived at Pawling Saturday night at the end of an arduous 2,350-mile campaign trip into Pennsylvania, Illinois and Missouri, cancelled plans to return to Albany last night and deferred his departure until today. He expected to arrive at the capitol this afternoon.

Picnic For National Forge Employees And Families Enjoyed By Crowd of Over 3,200

With approximately 3200 persons in attendance, the National Forge and Ordnance Company employees picnic, held Saturday afternoon and evening at Wilder Field, Irvine, was one of the most successful events of its kind ever held in this section.

Ideal weather prevailed for the occasion and soon after the gates were opened at noon, employees and members of their families began to arrive. From that time until the last event of the evening was staged, there was a continuous round of entertainment for young and old alike.

Opening feature of the program was a baseball game in which the National Forge team easily defeated the Bell Aircraft Comets, of Buffalo, 11 to 5 in six innings.

Following the ball game, a short program of talks was enjoyed. All those in attendance were extended a hearty welcome by John C. Harrington, president of the company, who also introduced the other speakers. Mr. Harrington, in his talk, paid tribute to the employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company who are in the armed service. He also paid a fitting tribute to the memory of Walter Smith, valued employee for many years, who passed away last week.

Others who were introduced and spoke briefly were Col. R. L. Dunkel, chief of the Industrial Division, Pittsburgh Ordnance District, United States Army; Commander R. G. Walling, chief of the Erie District for Inspection of Naval Material, United States Navy; Commander Z. M. de Carvalho, resident inspector for the Brazilian Navy; Alexander P. Reed, of Pittsburgh, first vice president of National Forge; Carl E. Johnson, of Irvine, first retired employee of the company, and Wade Ransom, chairman of the plant grievance committee. JAP CONVOY IS WIPED OUT IN TWO-DAY RAID

Eleven Nipponese Vessels, Including Five Warships, Sunk and Thirty Surface Craft Damaged

PROGRESSING ON GUAM

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Striking within 600 miles of Tokyo, a fast American carrier task force has shelled the Bonin islands for the first time in this war and, in a two-day attack, sank 11 Japanese vessels—including five warships—and damaged 430 other surface craft.

The shelling leveled Omura, Japanese town on northwestern Chichi, key island of the Bonin group. Carrier planes bombed Chichi, Haha, Moko and Iwo Islands in the Bonins, and two in the Kazan group, 150 miles south.

A Pacific fleet communiqué said the American task force "virtually wiped out a Japanese convoy" during the raids Thursday and Friday, U. S. time.

At two, six enemy planes were shot down. Six others were destroyed, and five damaged, on the ground. One parked plane was destroyed at Chichi. Island anti-aircraft guns shot down 16 American carrier planes, and 19 American armymen were lost.

On Guam, 130 miles south of Saipan, American soldiers and marines forced Japanese defenders deeper into the northern quarters of the island.

Marines began operating fighter planes off the Orote Peninsula airstrip on Guam, cleared of the wreckage of 76 Japanese planes. Guam's civilians continued to surrender by the hundreds; 22,000 already have taken refuge behind American lines.

American Sixth Army troops who landed at Sansapor, Dutch New Guinea, 600 miles southeast of the Philippines, last week, have cut enemy coastal communications and driven the Japanese back into the jungle "in a state bordering on demoralization."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur emphasized "the confusion and displacement in rear areas of the second Japanese army."

Americans made another landing at Korim Bay on Biak island, off Dutch New Guinea, to cut off the escape of Japanese units fleeing from the American-occupied airbase.

In the Wewak-Aitape area of British New Guinea, 700 miles east of San Sapor, Americans buried 967 more enemy dead, bringing Japanese fatalities in the area, since renewal of activity last July 12, to 5,935.

Chinese troops were reported battling inside the defenses of the Japanese stronghold of Tengchung in western Yunnan province today after pouring through the breaches blasted in the city's ancient walls by U. S. 14th Air Force bombers.

The Chinese also were exerting pressure on enemy forces defending the Burma road town of Mawghsh. Several miles southwest of Lungling, another major objective of the campaign.

WRECK NEAR LATROBE

Latrobe, Aug. 7.—(P)—Traffic moved over the four main line tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad today after emergency crews had cleared the wreckage of 13 freight cars and repaired several hundred yards of track torn up last night. E. W. Stoops, division superintendent, said the derailment was caused when a coupling was pulled loose and dropped onto the rails.

In times like these, we Americans must take the best care of our possessions—especially our homes. That's why needed repairs and painting within reasonable limits are not only permitted, but encouraged. For any money you may need to finance them, see us.

Mr. Smith entered pilot training last September and attended flying schools at Americus, Ga., and Greenwood, Miss., before taking up advanced training at Columbus.

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor at Warren, Pa., up to 2:00 p. m. August 15, 1944, for all the live white ash timber marked or designated for cutting and all the merchantable dead white ash timber located on an area embracing 450 acres in Warrens 5220, 5221, and 5231, Limestone township and Warrant 5219, Watson Township, Warren county; and Warrant 5220, Hickory township, Forest County, on the watersheds of Queen Creek, Piney Run and Otter Creek, Allegheny National Forest, Pa., estimated to be 120 M board feet, more or less. No bid will be considered of less than $25.00 per M board ft. One thousand dollars ($1000.00) must be submitted with each bid to be applied to the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to conditions of the sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before any bids are submitted, a prospective bidder should examine the system of marking on the sale area. Full information concerning the timber, conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor at Warren, Pa., or from the District Ranger at Sheffield, Pa. The District Ranger will arrange to show this timber to interested parties.

Last Community Recreation Night of Summer Scheduled

Once again there will be something for everyone at the Community Recreation Night on Friday evening at the Beatty School premises. The committee headed by Robert Wilder met last evening at the home of Georgia Spinney, 109 St. Clair street, to make final plans for the evening's activities.

The program will start off with a softball game on Beatty field at 6 o'clock. The First Methodists and the Grace Methodists will play the last scheduled game in the second round of the Y. M. C. A. Softball League.

Special feature for this week's party will be a Community Sing on Beatty School lawn at 7:30.

Harry A. Summers will direct the sing. Grace Young is the committee member in charge of this feature. It is hoped that there will be a large turnout of all ages for this community sing, the first of its kind in Warren for some time.

Specialties are being planned for the period between 8 and 8:30 in the gym, which will be announced in greater detail later in the week. Some amusing mixers are being planned for those who wish to participate. Following the specialties, badminton, shuffleboard and ping pong will be set up in the gym, and will continue through the evening.

At 8:30 the orchestra will start playing for outdoor dancing on the court, with provision made for going inside in the event of rain. The floor show is scheduled for a half hour earlier than usual, at 10 o'clock. Nick Geradimos and Bill Clinger will again be in charge.

Teresa Fino, assisted by Jo Ann Phillips and their committee of 30, have planned a greater variety of refreshments at this last party of the summer series, sponsored by the Community P. T. A. Council. There will be service of the soft drinks bar and at the tables in the outdoor cabaret.

FICTITIOUS NAME

Elaine S. Lebkuecher, 10 Goodrich street, Hempstead, L. I., has applied for the registration of a fictitious name Smith's Garden Shop under which she will conduct business. The place of business is the Smith store at Pennsylvania avenue, east with George L. Smith as local agent, for his daughter, who applied for the right to use the fictitious name. The store as in the past will buy and sell seeds, ammunition, hardware, etc.

CAR CRASHES

Pennsylvania State Police from the local barracks investigated a crash which occurred about 2:20 a. m. Saturday on the Unit Oil curge just outside the borough limits west of town, when George McCallister, 29, of South Heights, Beaver county, wrecked his 1937 Chevrolet coach against a telephone pole. McCallister, who was treated at Warren General Hospital for brush burns about the face and chest, told police he was blinded by lights of an approaching car and ran off the road when the machine skidded. Damage to his car will amount to about $300 according to the police.

MAY SWITCH PLANS

From an indirect source it is learned that the U. S. Army in sending war prisoners into this section to work in the woods may not use the Bull Hill CCC camp for housing the prisoners. No word has been received recently relative to the matter but from all indications the Conscientious Objectors who are housed at the Red Bridge Camp, between Kinzua and Kane, will be moved to the Bull Hill camp and the war prisoners sent into the Red Bridge camp. Necessary papers in the matter have been sent to Washington but as yet no definite word has been received as to the projected placing of prisoners in wood cutting camps in this section.

Rationed Motorists Now Get Extra Gasoline Mileage

Legion Post To Help Buy Five Bombers

Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion, through its subordinate Posts is engaged in a drive to sell $2,000,000 in War Bonds for the purpose of providing funds to purchase five bombers to be named in honor of deceased Past Department Commanders; David J. Davis, J. Leo Collins, Joseph H. Thompson, Edward E. Hollenback and William F. Smith. The drive is on for a period of 17 days—August 1 to 17—with a final report to be made at the opening session of the Department Convention at Harrisburg on August 17.

The time is so short it will be impossible to personally contact many friends of the Legion, but it will be appreciated by the Legion if any who are buying bonds will request the agency through which the bonds are purchased, to give credit to the local Chief Cornplanter Post No. 135.

Any sales so made will not only assist the Legion in reaching its objective, but will also boost the total figures for Warren county.

Hun Prisoners Being Hunted By State Police

Three escaped German prisoners of war, who fled from Camp Letchenworth Park, Livingston Co., N. Y., between Rochester and Olean, are sought by Army officials, FBI agents and state police, who believed their flight will carry them into the Erie area. Descriptions of the trio, dressed in regulation prisoner-of-war uniforms of blue denim with large letters, "P-W" painted on the back and knees, were issued as follows: Richard Bleer, 18, P-W No. 8WG 63400, five feet 4½ inches tall, 136 pounds, brown hair, brown eyes, freckled complexion. Eugene Reininger, 21, P-W No. 121528, five feet 11 inches tall, 170 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair. Guenter Hannemann Obergreiter, 22, P-W No. 8WG-63947, five feet 5½ inches tall, 140 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, scar behind right ear.

Circus Here For Exhibition On South Side

Bailey Brothers Circus arrived in Warren from Kane over the weekend and have their tents pitched on the Brewery lot on the South Side. The show came from Kane where it exhibited on Saturday. Quite a few of the genius small boys were on hand when the first trucks came rolling into the lot and they labored long and hard assisting in the work of erecting the tents.

Sunday on the show grounds was a busy day and in addition to getting the canvas into the air for crews of painters were at work on trucks, poles, etc., adding new paint which makes the show look spic and span. The constant task of refurbishing a show is a big one and Bailey Brothers believe in having their paraphernalia looking neat and natty.

Two performances will be given here today and the press agent promises some entertaining features on a program replete with the usual wonder found under canvas. The show will go to Titusville from this city.

YM Victory Camp Plans Progressing

Victory camp which will be held at Jeffers, the local Boy Scouts Camp, from August 15 to 18. The camp will be under the direction of Lloyd Shirk, Program Secretary of the YMCA, who will be assisted by selected older boys. The program for the three day camp has been planned to include all those activities to which a camper looks forward, soft ball games, campfires, exploring, zell-ball, sings, stories, stunts, treasure hunt, as well as instruction in camp craft and nature lore.

Warren Veteran of Guadalcanal Spending Furlough Home Two Years After First D-Day

When the United States Marines hit the beaches of Guadalcanal, Tulagi and Gavutu Islands in the Solomons on Aug. 7, 1942, it marked America's first "D-Day," the first American invasion against an aggressor nation. The map shows how the Stars and Stripes, in the two years since Guadalcanal, have been planted on more and more Japanese possessions with increasing rapidity, culminating in the double blow at Guam and Tinian. As the Guadalcanal campaign dragged out for six months, the jungles, swamps and mosquitoes of the Solomon Islands bred in the Marines and Army infantrymen a new concept of war and their progress on Saipan and on Guam testifies that they learned their lessons well. Inserted on the photo of Marines moving up on Guadalcanal is shoulder patch, first of its kind in the history of the Corps, worn by the famous First Marine Division to commemorate their proud record.

Today is a memorable anniversary for Marine Sgt. Irving Headlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Headlund, N. Irvine street, home on a thirty-day furlough after spending two years in the South Pacific. It was two years ago today that Sgt. Headlund's unit participated in the historic Guadalcanal invasion. It was four months and fifteen days afterward that Sgt. Headlund, along with hundreds of other veterans of that now famous engagement were hospitalized in Australia where he remained for nine months. During his stay in the South Pacific Sgt. Headlund participated in battles at New Guinea, New Britain, Good Enough Island, Cape Worcester, Borgen Bay, Telarea, Eboki and other islands along that far-flung battlefield. He also made stops at New Zealand, Tulagi and the New Hebrides during his "tour" in the Pacific. Sgt. Headlund's unit arrived at San Diego, Calif., July 7, and he reached home about two weeks later. Next week his furlough will end when he reports to New River, N. C. He enlisted in October, 1940, at Pittsburgh, and started training a short time later at Parris Island, S. C. WAC Enlisting Officer To Be Here Thursday

On Tuesday, August 8th, Lt. Esther Potts, Officer in Charge of recruiting for the Erie District, will visit Warren to recruit girls for the Third Service Command. Women joining the WAC and leaving from this district can request station and job assignment in this Command and return after basic training to serve in a post, camp or station in Pennsylvania, Virginia or Maryland, where they will be close enough to their homes to return on a three-day pass. You can also choose the job or type of work you want to do. If you already have some particular skill you can do the same kind of work for the Army. If you would like to learn a new trade, the Army will teach you "on the job". For more information, see Lt. Potts at the YWCA Tuesday between 12:00 and 5:00 and night appointments can be arranged by telephone.

The women who wouldn't sit and wait

IT ISN'T EASY to say "good-by" to the family, and to friends, and to nice long week ends.

It may not be natural for a woman to salute and stand at attention and say "Yes, sir"...

But ask any Wac if she'd change places with anyone in the world—and the answer would be "No!"

For deep down inside, every Wac knows the enormous satisfaction of being truly useful at a time of critical need.

The Wac spirit is a gallant spirit. The spirit of women who would rather be in the war, than sitting and waiting for it to end.

The Wac pride is an honest pride. In a job well done. In being part of the Army of the U. S.

You really have to hand it to the women of the WAC...

For they symbolize everything that is America.

to experiences he had fighting the Japs on the islands of the Pacific, preferring rather to check up on what has happened in Warren since he donned the uniform of the United States Marines. If asked about the slight limp he brought home with him he'll admit casually that it is arthritis. And he'll not mention unless asked, that his limp is caused by medicine he is taking for malaria. He has a number of citation ribbons he could wear—which he doesn't very often. One is the presidential citation with one star, another is the Asiatic Pacific citation with three stars, and still a third is the defense ribbon with one star. One can almost trace the journey that Sgt. Headlund made while in the South Pacific on the map, printed above, as a Guadalcanal anniversary feature furnished to the Times-Mirror by NEA Service, Inc.

This is a kind of last call to employers hiring women, as interpreted by one of our Washington correspondents:

The army is demanding now the last ounce of devotion to war production. The war is yet to be won.

Some authorities in this country warn against over-optimism. They say workers think the war is won and desert their war jobs for what they think are secure civilian jobs.

And right behind them comes Prime Minister Churchill, talking roselily about an end to the war soon. This causes justified confusion on the American home front.

But one fact remains: The war production job has to be done. Much of it has to be done by women.

So the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor has a few things to say which employers could heed to keep women working:

See that women workers wear the right kind of shoes. A survey of 1,000 women workers shows that there are 15 women with foot trouble for every man with foot trouble.

Men workers' cooperation should be won before women are employed.

Fit the job to match the physical capabilities of women for they must work without strain or undue fatigue if they are to work continuously.

Plan service facilities for them, like lockers, washrooms, toilets and rest rooms.

Appoint a woman personnel director to organize and head a woman-counselor system to whom the women can go with their problems for advice.

Select women carefully for specific jobs. This means selecting a woman for a job in accordance with her weight, height, strength, reach, steadiness of nerves, alertness, judgment, speed, and pre-employment physical examinations.

Take into consideration family responsibilities.

THE POLIO SEASON

Infantile paralysis, the dread disease which annually takes a toll of life among both the children and adults of the nation, again has started to come into its own and already has appeared in Ludlow, Buffalo, Erie and other nearby communities.

Although no cases have been reported in Warren or vicinity it is well for all persons to take such precautions as are advised by health officials.

The disease has appeared early, and apparently is spreading rapidly. Hurried measures have already been taken in the way of emergency hospitals where patients may be kept under quarantine.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has given out a list of simple precautions which should be generally observed:

1. Avoid overtiring and extreme fatigue from strenuous exercise.
 2. Avoid sudden chilling, such as plunging into cold water on a hot day.
 3. Keep the body clean. Wash hands thoroughly before eating.
 4. Avoid tonsil and adenoid operations during epidemic.
 5. Use the purest milk and water possible.
 6. Keep flies away from food.
 7. Do not swim in polluted water.
 8. Avoid any unnecessary contact with persons with any illness which carries suspicion of infantile paralysis.
- There is the additional precaution of washing fruit before eating, and of calling the doctor at the first sign of illness in a child. It may be nothing, but don't take a chance, either with a cold or any digestive upset.

Don't be frightened if a child is ill. Call the doctor and keep cool. When he comes, follow his instructions exactly.

Presence of a circus on the south side lot provided considerable entertainment for large crowds of adults and youngsters who visited the grounds Sunday. And the elephant proved the center of attraction throughout the afternoon and evening.

But three more of those popular and inspiring Sunday evening community worship services. Summer is fading all too rapidly.

Just about the time you've learned to tell a good, ripe cantaloupe the season will be over.

We could mention one Turkey that apparently isn't going to give the Germans any cause for Thanksgiving.

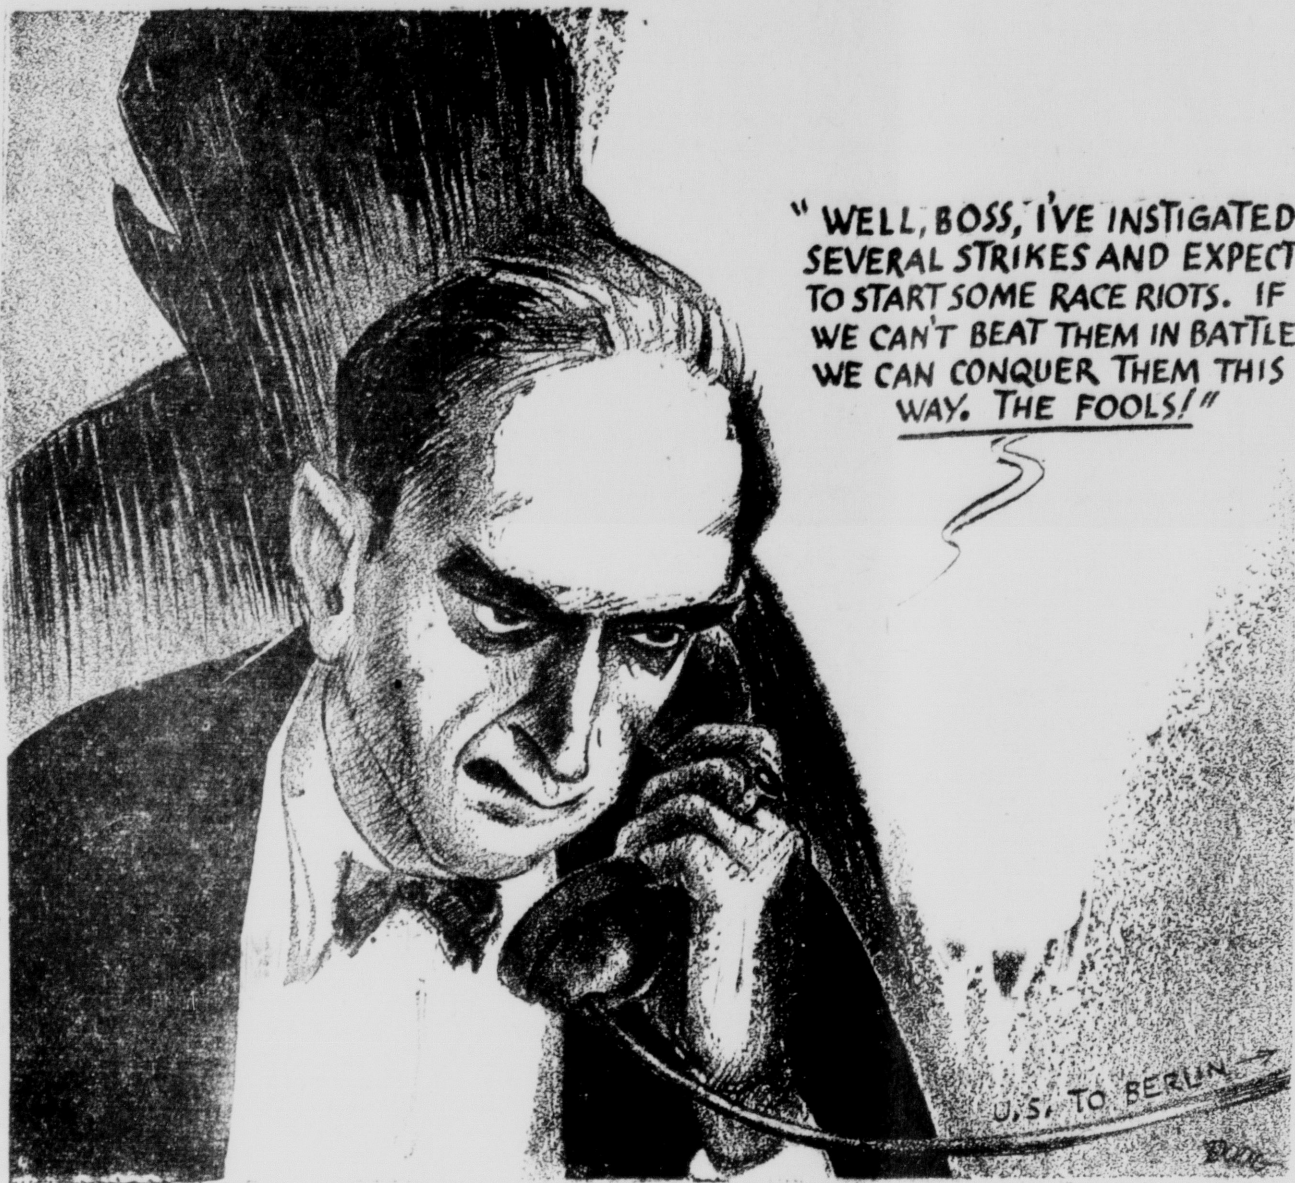

The corn borer is becoming to be quite a bore for many Warren county farmers.

If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him; but if a man sin against the Lord, who shall intreat for him?—Samuel 2:25.

When thou art preparing to commit a sin, think not that thou wilt conceal it; there is a God that forbids crimes to be hidden.—Tibullus.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—I don't know what the rest of the country is doing about the share-the-ride campaign but the Navy here certainly is making hay.

Every day, 28,000-odd workers pile into the Navy department building at 18th and Constitution avenue. The old World War I "temporaries" aren't much to pile into either.

According to Navy Transportation Officer Howard C. Beers, every one of these 28,000 now have been pulled to find out just how they come to work and whether they would fit into a share-the-ride program.

The results of the poll are interesting. Fifty-nine per cent of the total reporting use public transportation; 24 per cent ride to work in private cars, the remainder walk. Of the first classification, there still are 17 per cent would like to get in on share-the-ride clubs. The Navy has done what it can, but in the end it has had to turn over to local OPA District Rationing Officer Andrew S. Hines some 1,800 names who will have to be taken care of or else some drivers are going to lose either their license or rationing allotments.

THOSE are the cold facts. Actually, more than 7,400 Navy workers, in uniform and out, are now hooking rides every morning and evening under the share-the-ride program. There are only a few more than 3,700 who still could fit into the program and only about half of these are non-commissioned personnel who couldn't be solved immediately if full cooperation were obtained.

You would think that every driver in the Navy had either a B or C card, but according to the survey, only about 3,350 do and nearly all of these drive to work daily.

The average occupancy of Navy share-the-ride cars is 2.4 persons; which still is one person short of the District OPA goal but much better than the overall average for the capital area. The Navy has one big complaint that they feel keeps them from being 150 per cent perfect. That's lack of parking space. There's a lot of open land around the Navy buildings but most of it belongs to Interior Secretary Ickes' National Park Service, and if the "old curmudgeon" has one particular antipathy, it's against making parking lots out of national park property. So serious is the parking problem around the Navy department that B and C card holders have to be allotted an extra gallon of gas a day just to get their cars in and out of there.

THOSE are the facts and some of the figures, but Navy still can boast one of the best departmental records on share-the-car riding in Washington. Off the record, some officials there claim it's only natural because of Navy esprit de corps. If you are a Navy man or WAVE, or even a Marine, Coast Guard or SPAR, there's a good chance of finding a share-the-ride rider who will go out of his way to pick you up.

Even the thumbs wearing these uniforms get a ride, but it doesn't always apply in other branches of the service and certainly NOT among civilian clothed employees.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"Mr. Skelington" age ultimately catches up with most of the principal performers, a phenomenon almost as common in Bette Davis films as it is in life.

Ordinarily Hollywood ages its puppets romantically—discreet wrinkles, a touch of talcum in the hair, a shadow under the eyes, and a fellow automatically loses his youth. They variee the formula for Jerome Cowan, one of Bette's suitors, by injecting a not uncommon fact of male life. They made him bald.

Cowan, who isn't, already has fan mail on his baldness. "So you've been fooling us all these years," his first letter ran. "We didn't know you wore a hair-piece."

The realistic shining pate came from a new Perc Westmore process, employing a plastic and a solvent which blends the "baldness" into the skin so that no line of make-up demarcation is visible, even in close-ups.

"I WAS the guinea-pig for the process," says Cowan, who was delighted—not so much at his baldness as at his role. Sympathetic, you know. Cowan has been such a heel for so long—ex-capt. in Bette Davis pictures. Bette apparently sees his better nature, for "The Great Lie" and "The Old Maid" as well as in her current release Cowan has enjoyed success from villainy.

Cowan came from the stage's "Boy Meets Girl" to play a heavy, with an Irish brogue, in "The Beloved Enemy." He had a hard time living down the assumed dialect, almost as hard as he has had subsequently in garnering movie kisses rather than hisses.

"Not that I care particularly," he says. "I'm not arty at heart—I'm commercial. I get a kick out of a good part when it comes, but giving stock performances—in the B pictures—pays off too."

"I get a call for one of those, and I know I'll need a blue suit, a grey suit, and a tux—and get punched in the nose. They'll have a script, but generally it goes out the window after the first day, and we hurry through it. I never see those pictures, but I like the checks."

HIS biggest role, of the sort he takes seriously, is in "Guest in the House." He's the man who straightens out the family troubles caused by Anne Baxter. Sympathetic, of course.

The Cowans—she's the former Helen Dodge of the stage—and their three-year-old daughter Suzanne live on a ranch, with swimming pool, in the valley. The ranch is just one of the reasons Cowan, unlike many stage expatriates, never hankers for Broadway.

"I've been there," he says. "But I've never been to Hawaii, Mexico City, or the Canadian Northwest. I'd go back to do a play—if it were guaranteed to be a hit. But who could guarantee that? No, I think I'll stick around here, with my blue suits, grey suits, and tuxes—and these occasional good parts—unless I decide to go to Mexico for a picture. I'd like that."

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

1924

The annual picnic of the GAR was held Friday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ball. There were about 50 in attendance and a fine time was enjoyed with a splendid picnic dinner served.

A whole truck load of water melons were distributed over a wide area last evening when a truck was hit by the automobile of Attorney George B. Munn.

Lewis C. Jamieson has purchased Sunnybrae on Conewango avenue, extension. The place is a fine one originally built by W. D. Todd and later sold to R. H. McClure, who made a number of improvements.

Hundreds of housewives were out at the street market this morning. Prices on produce were as follows: Peas, 15c; potatoes, 35c; a dozen; spring chicken 50c; fowls, 35c; sour cherries 20c the quart.

Temporary buildings erected at the Outing Club since the fire now getting the finishing touches. The buildings will be used the remainder of the season and then replaced with new permanent structures.

Paul H. Young, now of Charleston, South Carolina, with his wife and son are in the city guests of Mrs. C. A. Young, 19 Cedar street.

Signs have been posted closing the Allegheny National Forest to all visitors. The fishermen say they will not lose as the water is too low but the berry pickers will be shut out of their favorite patches.

Word to the effect that Tom Henderson, of Sheffield, is improving is hailed as good news. He was hurt in an auto accident some time ago.

M. D. Boutwell, of the Chamber of Commerce, announces that 60 business men of Pittsburgh will come to Warren on a good will tour. They will travel on a special train and will be in Warren August 16.

The Order of DeMolay will hold its annual picnic Monday at Ferncliffe on the Warren-Jamestown road. The picnic will be incidental to a meeting and promises to be a happy event.

"I STOPPED DOSING MY CONSTIPATION A YEAR AGO!"

Says Happy KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN User

If you are still dosing your constipation, don't fail to read this unsolicited letter!

"I'd been troubled with common constipation for years. Tried many kinds of medicines for it. Then, just about a year ago, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I ate it regularly, without missing a day. It helped so much, I have not taken one dose of medicine for constipation since, nor have I confined myself to any diet." Mr. S. P. Loebe, Charleston, Missouri.

Sounds like magic, doesn't it? But, scientists say, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation—lack of dietary "cellulose" elements—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't "sweep you out!" It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real relief. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

Says MRS. RUSSELL PERKINS
Social Worker
Moorestown, New Jersey

●The millions of Ford owners share a special pride and satisfaction. For they know that economy, reliability and smart appearance have been built into their cars to last. And efficient Ford Protective Service is readily available wherever they may be. That's why you will hear it said over and over again, "Sure glad I've got a Ford!"

"EVERY WEEKDAY, RAIN OR SHINE, my 1939 Ford carries three of us to the hospital where I work in the Out-Patient Clinic. It's 18 miles round-trip...and Ford's famous gas-economy means a lot!"

"MY HUSBAND WAS 'CHIEF OBSERVER' of the Army Aircraft Warning Service and used the car regularly to drive up Mr. Laurel. Yet our Ford has always been trouble-free—repairs have cost next to nothing."

"BEFORE THE WAR, the car was filled with children, dogs, clubs and racquets. Now, on Sundays my twin granddaughters visit their great grandmother. Yes, our Ford's like one of the family!"

NEWS NOTES—Raw materials reaching the Rouge plant of Ford by boat are unloaded in 15-ton bins. As much as 850,000 tons of iron ore and 1,700,000 tons of coal arrive at the Rouge in a single season.

More than 30,000,000 Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars—and Ford Trucks—have been built

Bradford Couple Marry in Warren

Mr. and Mrs. Philip George, High street, Bradford, announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Pfc. Maurice B. Crump, of Cottage Row, that city, the ceremony having been performed at 6 p. m. August 3 in the First Methodist church of Warren by Rev. Wayne Furman.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Glenn Elliott, sister of the bridegroom, and Nick Creola, both of Warren.

The bride wore a street frock of magenta, with matching hat and shoulder veil and a corsage of white gladioli. Her matron of honor wore ice blue, with plum accessories and yellow rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of Glenn C. Elliott, storekeeper third class in the U. S. Navy, and Mrs. Elliott, in Pleasant township.

Later the newlyweds left for a short wedding trip. Both are graduates of Bradford High School and Pfc. Crump is currently located with an army unit at Camp Livingston, La.

Local Couple Wed In Little Church

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abplanalp, 303 Jackson avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Clarence A. Boggess, gunner's mate third class in the U. S. Navy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Boggess, 26 Franklin street, formerly of Charleston, W. Va.

The ceremony took place in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York City at 7 p. m. July 27. The bride wore a sheer pink frock with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage. The bridesmaid, Miss Jeanne Bailey, of Irvine wore a coral silk gown with white accessories and white gardenia corsage. The best man was Erroll Birnie, gunner's mate third class, of Newark, N. J.

When the newlyweds arrived from New York for a short leave with their parents, they were honored with a dinner party given by the bridegroom's parents.

committee, who spoke on behalf of the employees. Also introduced were Duane and Robert Wilder, of Warren, sons of the late C. E. Wilder, founder of National Forge. Accompanying Commander Walling was Lieut. Richard Thompson, U. S. Navy, aide to the Erie district officer.

All of the speakers commended the employees of National Forge for the fine record of production they have made and urged to continue to keep the men in the service by keeping up this fine record.

The program of sports, which followed the talks, was another highlight of the day, with boys, girls, men and women all having a part in the fun. Winners of the various events included the following:

Boys—Watermelon eating contest, Cleatus Remmy; pie eating contest, Ben Patrick.

Girls—Shoe race, Lois Peterson; egg race, Betty Mesler.

Women—Husband calling contest, Phyllis Elmqvist; rolling pin throwing contest, Helen Desainer; shoe race, Mrs. J. E. Wilcox.

In the women's tug-of-war contest, the shop team defeated the main office by a close margin. On the winning team were Caroline Johnson, Marguerite Brown, Ardelie Nicholson, Rita Goughler, Josephine Kushner and Carol Westfall.

Feature of the men's sports was a series of tug-of-war contests. In the preliminaries, the first shift representatives defeated both the second and third shifts for the privilege of meeting Ernie Crull's Constructors, but the latter outfit came through to take the plant championship. On he winning team were Lloyd Crull, Floyd Briggs, Leonard Engle, Harry Hubbard, Al Thomas and Robert Corbin.

Winding up the sports program Dave Thompson finally capturing was the greased pig chase, with the big porker after a spirited battle.

Following the sports program there was a brief lull in the activities before the serving of the sumptuous chicken dinner. Just previous to which the Rev. Samuel Stimer of Youngsville, father of Wendell Stimes, who is now in the armed services, asked grace. During the dinner a fine concert was presented by musicians from the Youngsville High School band, the Struthers-Wells band and the V. F. W. band of Warren.

At 7:15 o'clock, members of the Youngsville American Legion post lowered the colors while the band played the Star Spangled Banner. At this time the entire assembly paused for one moment in silent prayer for the boys of National Forge who are in the armed services.

The Country Store which followed was one of the outstanding events on the program. With "Doug" Kropf acting very capable as master of ceremonies, prizes consisting of hams, groceries, flour, candy and live chickens were given away. At this time, also, Arthur Lind was awarded a jar containing 468 pennies as a reward for having guessed nearest the correct number. His guess was 472.

Winners of the various prizes included the following: Billy Dobbs, Mrs. John Yucha, William Haller, Margaret Anderson, Joan Armstrong, Denise Haller, James Messler, Jr., Dennis Huckabone, Mrs. August Cerra, Bernice Hendrickson.

In the contest to determine the largest family on the grounds, the winner was Ray Reynolds, who had ten present. He was presented with a basket of groceries, while the runner-up was Tom Bowers, who had seven members of his family present. He received five pounds of sugar.

Special prizes were presented to Harry Swartzfager and Roy Lightner, each receiving a grab bag prize consisting of a live chicken.

The evening's program was completed with four outstanding vaudeville acts which were enjoyed by all those present.

During the afternoon and evening, special entertainment was provided for the small children and a committee of women was on hand to direct play on the playground equipment which was installed.

Deserving of special mention was the efficient manner in which the chicken dinner was served to such a large gathering. Within approximately an hour and forty minutes, the entire crowd of more than three thousand persons had been served and all of the food was piping hot from start to finish.

Although there was a first aid tent on the grounds, with two trained nurses in attendance throughout the day, no accidents were reported and very few persons required any attention by the nurses.

One of the most popular places throughout the afternoon was the tent where soft drinks were served. Eight thousand bottles of beverages were given away during the picnic.

Much comment was made upon the fine manner in which the committee members took care of the parking of cars. At the close of the program, all of the automobiles were moved quickly and with no confusion, due to the fine arrangements made in advance.

General chairman for the picnic was D. G. Kropf, director of safety at the National Forge. He deserves much credit for his fine work in supervising the outing.

Also deserving of commendation are the members of the plant grievance committee headed by Wade Ransom, and the members of the various sub-committees which contributed much to the success of the outing.

FOUR YEARS AGO, Hans WAS IN OUR SHOES

HANS is a German. Four years ago, he felt the way many of us feel today. He thought the war was as good as won.

He had reason to think so. Far more reason than we have. France was his. England was bloody after Dunkerque. The German Army seemed invincible.

But the war wasn't almost over. And now it is our armies that are on the march. It is our bombers blasting German cities. Victory is in our grasp. It's up to us to see that we don't let it slip through our fingers the way Hans did.

Most of us know that this is the military crisis of this war—the time when our fighting men must give everything they have, not once in a while but hour after hour—day after day.

But this alone is not enough. The lives of brave men are not enough. Money is needed too.

For this is the financial crisis of the war just as surely as it is the military crisis. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment is being destroyed in battle. The money to replace it must come from us, and come quickly.

If every last one of us here at home will try to match the constant, day-to-day drive of the men who fight our battles, we'll raise that money.

The way to do it is to put every cent we can possibly invest into U.S. War Bonds. Not some of us. All of us. Not once in a while during a drive, but regularly . . . every pay day.

Can we do the job that Hans couldn't do? Can we—voluntarily—keep making sacrifices when Victory seems just around the corner? The answer is up to you.

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra War Bonds!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Bell Aircraft Team Drops Both Games Played at Irvine Against the National Forgers

The National Forge club twice defeated the over-rated Bell Aircraft team over the weekend.

In the first game, which was played Saturday to highlight the Forgers picnic, both teams were held scoreless in the first inning. In the second, the Bell club failed to do any scoring as the Warrenians collected three hits, including a double by pitcher Diz Hines, two walks, and a fielder's choice to tally five runs to give them quite an edge.

The next inning saw no score for the airmen while the iron-men had another field day. An error, a single by McKinney, and a double by third baseman Giegherich collected three more runs to make the count 8-0. McKinney was injured and had to be replaced by Aumer.

Came the fourth and no score for a change. The Bellmen began to play ball in the fifth as they scored three runs. Hines was replaced by Hoyt. The Forgers again failed to score. In the sixth the Buffalo boys connected for two more tallies which made the count 8-5.

Warren regained their scoring punch in the sixth as Morrison and Rosequist doubled, Aumer singled and Andy Natale got on base on an error. This rally brought them three more runs to give the Forgers a six-run lead. The Bell team made one last effort in the seventh as they accounted for one run, the final score being 11-6.

In Sunday's encounter, the Bell team started out big guns as they connected for two scores. Came the mighty Forgers to bat in five runs from four singles and a double. There were no attempts to score in the second, but in the third the Buffalions came through with their last tally of the game.

In the Forge half of the fourth they crossed the plate with two more runs to make the count 7-3. Again, in the sixth, the Warren boys dug in and made themselves two more runs, which terminated the scoring. The Bell boys made one last effort in the ninth to get back into the ball game but couldn't quite make it.

An attempt is being made to bring Jamestown Newberries to Warren on Wednesday. This team is rated as one of the best clubs in Jamestown.

Browns Appear Shoo-in For Pennant if They Break Even During Coming Road Schedule

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Browns appear a shoo-in for the American league pennant—provided they can break even in their 22-game eastern swing which starts Wednesday against the New York Yankees in New York.

Closing their home stand yesterday with a double triumph over the Cleveland Indians, 9-6 and 6-4, with the aid of a big six-run inning in each game, the Browns ran their winning to eight, one shy of their season-opening streak. The Browns are enjoying their biggest first place lead of the season, six and a half games, despite a 24-26 game record away from home. The reason for this is their remarkable gait at their Sportsman's Park home. Their latest and best home stand shows a record of 14 victories and five defeats for an all-over record of 38 wins and 16 losses—a .704 percentage.

If the Browns can win 11 of their next 22 games, they seem safe to be in first place on their return—to conclude their schedule with 23 out of their last 28 games at home.

On the other hand, both the Red Sox and the Yankees, the Browns' most persistent rivals must end their schedule abroad. Neither has fared well away from home, the Red Sox winning 25 and losing 29 on foreign fields and the Yankees emerging triumphant in but 21 of their 56 contests on the road.

Nelson Potter, pitching his first game since Umpire Hubbard ejected him from a game for blowing on his hands, was credited with his 10th victory in the St. Louis-Cleveland opener, while Dennis Galehouse won his fourth in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh shattered the Chicago Cubs' 11-game winning streak by taking both ends of a double header 13-5 and 5-4. The double header dropped the bruins back into the second division, one percentage behind the fourth place New York Giants.

Detroit swept a twin-bill from the Chicago White Sox, 10-3 and 3-1 before 18,801 fans. Dizzy Trout became the third major league hurler to win 17 games, giving up only five hits in the nightcap.

Giants needed only an even split to regain the first division, the opener from the Phillies, 6-2, for Harry Feldman's ninth victory, and dropping the Yankees won two games from the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 and 1-0.

The Boston Braves dumped the Brooklyn Dodgers into the cellar again with a 14-4 and 8-7 double pasting.

The Red Sox and Washington Senators traded one-run decisions, the Senators winning the opener, 3-2, and the Sox annexing the finale 5-4.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-4 in 14 innings when Johnny Hopp doubled to score Max Lanier, but may have lost the services of Pitcher Ted Work. Wilks was hit on the side of the head by a line drive off the bat of Steve Mesner in the 13th inning and had to be taken to a hospital.

Fans Given a Baseball Treat By Buffalo Colored Giants

Coming to Warren advertised as the best colored club in western New York state, the Buffalo Colored Giants treated the large gathering of fans at Russell Field yesterday to some of the best played baseball seen in Warren since the Homestead Grays and Philadelphia Stars played here several years ago. They showed themselves to be a first class club in every respect. Putting in their appearance long before game time they made a good impression on the field, with their natty uniforms, kept the game going at a lively pace, pleased the fans with their continual chatter and showed lots of power at the plate getting sixteen hits while playing a beautiful defensive game in the field.

McQueen brought the fans to their feet when he made a beautiful one handed catch of Lindquist's drive in the second inning as did Mallory in the ninth when he went back and took Jewell's long drive into center.

The colored boys went right to work on Rose in the first getting two hard drives for the first two men. A double play erased the next batter and one runner but Collins tripled scoring McQueen and he scored on C. Judson's single. Those two runs started their scoring which was continued in the third with two, one in the fifth, sixth and seventh and three in the eighth. They garnered eleven hits off Rose during his six inning stay and nicked Schussler for five more in the next three.

Brook kept the Struthers boys eating out of his hand for seven innings. Jiggs Bonavita being the only one to solve his pitching Jiggs getting two hits one of which was a long double. In the eighth, however, the Warren club got after Brook, McLean getting a base on balls, Lucia forcing him at second, Swanson advanced him to second with a single and "Al" Bonavita was safe on the pitchers error filling the bases. Schussler then dropped a Texas leaguer into right scoring Lucia and Swanson. On the throw in Bonavita scored and Schussler went to second and scored a moment later on Vesling's single. This ended the scoring of the game.

The Struthers team has been fortunate in being able to bring the Jamestown All Stars to Russell Field, Wednesday, August 9th for a game at 8:15 o'clock. They are playing this game just before they leave for Wichita, Kansas where they will represent New York state in the semi-pro tournament. Another large crowd is expected at this game.

Chapter 29

LOUISE stood at the living room window, looking down on the rain-drenched street below. The snow, which had begun in the late afternoon, had turned into a steady drizzle at nightfall, and now the rain was coming down in buckets—yes, buckets. It seemed to have no effect on the residents of Washington Avenue. They were scurrying along—some with umbrellas, some without—laden with bundles of various shapes and sizes, apparently oblivious to the downpour. It was almost as if they were saying: "What's a little rain—when Christmas is less than two weeks away?"

It seemed incredible to Louise that November had come and gone, that today was the fifteenth of December. So many changes had taken place since that bright day she and Martha had gone to the airport to meet Angel and Baby Jeanne.

"Was it only last June?" mused Louise. "Why, that was just six months ago. It seems like a lifetime. So many things have happened. So many people have come—and gone."

Angel had not only gone to the smart little apartment in Beekman Place to live, Right now she was singing at one of the smartest night clubs in town. In a little while—at ten-thirty—she would be broadcasting direct from the club.

Baby Jeanne, too, had gone a long, long way from the dreary railroad flat on Washington Avenue. She was living on Gramercy Park with her own grandparents, her mother having returned to the sanitarium out west. Martha, always a welcome visitor, saw Baby Jeanne now and then, and reported that she was growing into a fine, healthy child.

Martha had returned to her job at the plant—but only for a little while. Her work with the girls on the assembly line had won recognition and she'd been given a position in the personnel department. Martha now had a desk of her own, and was earning more than Louise. After Christmas they would be moving away from Washington Avenue. Not to a swank apartment in Beekman Place, like Angel's, but to a comfortable and cheerful flat near the park.

BOBBY was going places. He had his old room back now and had settled down to his school work. He had taken on an after-school job and was buying a new saxophone. As a rule he stayed home to study on week nights, but tonight, he had broken the rule and gone out.

Yes, she thought now as she watched the raindrops beat against the window panes, they were all going along. They were all going places in one way or another. Only she, Louise, had stood still.

Not even to herself would she admit that much of her present unrest was because of Dick Stanley. Like all the others, he had come—and he had gone. She had not seen him for three weeks, and then for only a few minutes. He had dropped by to say he was off to Washington for a day or two, and he had seemed so restless and preoccupied that it was almost a relief when he left.

There had been times when Louise had felt that she had not only liked the red-headed cameraman, but loved him. There had been times humans have short memories. Back in '29 we said prosperity would last forever. It didn't. In 1933 we said depression was here to stay. It wasn't. Now we say money will continue to come "easy". It won't. Wise men and women face the facts and put some of today's earnings into a bank account. They know they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by being farsighted and thrifty.

EASY MONEY

Pre-Induction Meeting Is Well Attended

Despite the heat wave and the severe storm, which broke earlier in the same evening, the Pre-Induction meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday evening at 8 o'clock was attended by 25 interested men.

The Selectees were addressed by Dr. Hilding A. Bengs, who spoke helpfully of the mental and physical adjustments a man should be prepared to make as he enters military service. A forum period for discussion of questions raised by the selectees followed the address. Those on the information panel, besides Dr. Bengs, were M. E. Emery, of Selective Service Board No. 1, Montgomery McClure and Ralph H. Wagner.

A delicious and generous luncheon was served by a committee of ladies of the Auxiliary of the County Medical Society.

Ludlow Now Under Polio Quarantine

The nearby community of Ludlow with a population of more than 1,000 persons was placed under strict polio quarantine last Friday night which affected every residence and family and also resulted in closing Wildcat Park. County Health officers arranged for the quarantine which will isolate that community for 14 days.

Dr. L. W. Dana, president of the Kane Board of Health stated there has been no change in the polio situation and that reports of another case at Ludlow were not true. He stated he examined a sick child at that place last night but that there were no symptoms of

Band Concert Is Enjoyed At State Hospital

The patients at the Warren State Hospital turned out one thousand strong on Friday night to listen to the band of the Veterans of Foreign Wars so ably conducted by Leidy Williams. It was planned that the concert should be held in the baseball field where a capacity crowd is usually accommodated, but just as the instruments were being tuned, the "inverted bowl" generously contributed large drops of condensed vapor for which all had been playing for weeks. A hasty transfer was effected without confusion to the congregate dining room in the main building where the carefully selected program which delighted its audience was uninterrupted.

"Thanks a lot" and "It was swell" reverberated through the dormitories and corridors long after the entertainers had departed. The hospital is grateful to the Veterans of Foreign Wars whose thoughtfulness made a bright side to an otherwise dull evening.

THERE'S A PLACE FOR YOU ON THIS TEAM!

The Blue Streak, a B-24 Liberator, was one of the greatest bombers that ever climbed into the sky.

She flew 110 missions; 500,000 miles; over Germany, Italy, Roumania, Greece, Austria, Africa, Sicily.

Her air combat crews sank a Nazi freighter off Crete... blew up a tanker at Candia... sent a destroyer to the bottom of Suda Bay.

They shot down 23 German and Italian fighters... dropped half-a-million pounds of bombs... won the Distinguished Unit Badge and countless individual decorations for gallantry in action.

Yet in all her battles in enemy skies, not a man in any of her crews was ever wounded!

Ask her pilot, Maj. Ralph P. Thompson, of Columbus, O., how she managed to roll up such a record, and he'll tell you: "Because there were no 'individual stars' on her crew. We flew her and fought her as a team... gunners, navigator, bombardier, and pilot, all working together to win."

"And that's the thing any young fellow—who wants to win his wings in the AAF—should keep uppermost in his mind..."

"You're on a team in the AAF... from your first day of training until you get up there in action. And it's a team that's never been stopped... that never will be stopped... the 'greatest team in the world!'"

Today, the AAF is writing history.

Liberators and Fortresses are blacking out the skies over Germany. Japan is already beginning to feel the awful power of the Superfortress. Swarms of heavy bombers, medium bombers, light bombers and fighters are spearheading the attack on every front.

Today—more than ever before—there's a place for you on this great AAF team.

If you are 17... if you want action, adventure... the finest, most thorough training any flying man ever had... an opportunity to make a career in aviation after the war...

Then go to your nearest AAF Examining Board and see if you can qualify for the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve... with an opportunity to win your wings as gunner, navigator, bombardier or pilot in the AAF... the "greatest team in the world!"

Woodchuck Burrows Into Mill Race In Chase For Big Carp

If the populace notices any Carnegie medals on the brawny breasts of the Warren coppers it will be because Paul Woodchuck, of Glade drove into the mill race near the carbarns. Paul had been to town in a really big way and when passing the mill race he saw a huge carp. He entered it in dulcet tones to his head when Paul poised himself a la Speedy, the high diver. There was a splash and then an alarm was sent to the cops to come and do a little fishing for Woodchuck instead of carp. The police got the fellow out of the slime and water and took him to the police station where they ran him through a wringer and spread him on the slats to dry.

And on Friday in spite of the dry spell the coppers were called in to adjust an argument over a spring.

Two families who get their supply from a spring had an argument and the water of one family was turned off. The coppers turned the spigot and peace reigned again.

Dogs again gave the boys some anxious moments and one canine was taken to the execution grounds and sent on to the land where all good dogs go. Other dogs howled, one ran loose and the police talked to the boss man of the dogs and the neighbors resumed their gin rummy and interrupted sleep.

Four kiddies who had started for old Irvinedale Park for a picnic did not get home in the scheduled time allotted to them. So search was instituted and the kids were finally located at Shipman's Eddy on the Allegheny river.

One of the patients who had wandered away from the State Hospital was picked up on Redwood street and returned to the institution.

And a woman reported that polio.

Condition of Kenneth Thompson, 11, first victim of infantile paralysis at that place, continued serious today. There still was no confirmation of a polio diagnosis in a suspected case at Johnsonburg.

As result of the Ludlow quarantine, no newspaper deliveries are permitted at that place and for the ensuing two weeks copies will be available only at the George W. Beers store.

FAMED BARGAIN HORSE IS BEING RETIRED

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(P)—Turfdom's famed bargain horse, five-year-old Alsab, who earned $350,015 in purses after being purchased as a yearling for $700, has ended his racing career and will retire to stud next spring.

His owner, Albert Sabath, reported that "it was decided not to risk any possibility, however remote, or injury to him or of aggravating the leg injury suffered last year." He will be retired to Alsab Farm at Lexington, Ky.

Alsab's most spectacular feat was his defeat of Whirlaway, the Elder, in two of their three heralded encounters in the fall of 1942.

AMERICANS FATTENING UP

Department of Agriculture estimates that despite war requirements civilians in the U. S. in 1943 consumed 5 per cent to 7 per cent more food than in the pre-war average 1935-39 and only about 2 per cent less than in 1942.

taugua club a score. From then on, only two errors were committed, one by each side.

Warren failed to score in their half of the second as the Chautauqua boys came through with two tallies. In the third, Struthers accounted for one more. Jewell singled and was driven in with a single by Bob Schussler. The second half of the third was almost a tragedy for the Warren boys. Dave Main, pitching for Struthers, was replaced by Rabbit Swanson, who got the Ironmen out of a bad hole, permitting only one run which then made the score 4-2.

In the fourth Struthers accounted for another as Marlett singled and stole second. Swanson walked, and Vesling was hit by the pitcher. Marlett came home on a wild pitch by the pitcher. Chautauqua evened up the inning with a run driven in by Lefty Pratt, who had a single, two doubles, and a triple as his days average.

Neither club scored in the fifth or sixth, but came the seventh and Jiggs Bonavita connected for a home run to make the count 5-4. Then the lake team connected for two more, which gave them a three run lead.

Hope was renewed in the eighth as Struthers hit away for two more. Lucia doubled, Marlett, Swanson and Vesling singled. The score now read 7-6.

Chautauqua came through in the last half of the ninth with two singles and a double. Then Pratt

Joseph Constable Wins Times-Mirror Scholarship

Joseph Constable, Glade avenue, has been awarded the Times-Mirror Scholarship in Radio Servicing, which he will carry on with the International Correspondence School, of Scranton. The scholarship was recently awarded by H. Dunham, of the Warren High School correspondence instructor. Constable was selected by Mr. Dunham from a group of High School students studying Correspondence Instruction. The lucky young man was selected by Mr. Bathurst, principal of the Warren High School and L. C. Johnson, Representative of the ICS who were present when the award was made.

The winner of the award has expressed his keen appreciation to Mr. W. A. Walker, of the Times Publishing Company for this opportunity to broaden his education and for the opportunity for advanced study in his chosen vocation.

It is the year's rubber meeting, between Baski, who recently was between the ranking "outstanding boxer" among the heavies by the National Boxing Association, and 27-year-old Savola, who was rated third by the NBA behind Kaski and Melio Bettina, of the army.

"Titles can be frozen for the duration," asserted Kearns, who, once managed Jack Dempsey, "but the game should be kept alive and these two boys will give the returning top-notchers something to start against when they return."

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 7.—(AP)—American patrols reached Domfront today, broadening to a 50-mile front Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's new battering ram headed toward Paris, 140 miles away, which the Germans were reported evacuating.

British troops on a two-mile front cut a great wedge across the Orne river in a new thrust from the northeast against Paris. Driving into the western fringes of the Cinglais forest, the British threatened to outflank the German defenses on the vital Caen "hinge." The thrust cut deep behind the enemy's gun-bristling defense arc facing Caen on a line from May-sur-Orne eastward through Rocquancourt, Tilly-la-Campagne, La Hogue and Vimont.

BATTLE RAGES WITHIN CITY OF FLORENCE

Big German Shells Continue To Land in South Portion Of Historic Italian Art Center

10,000 ARE CAPTURED

By NOLAN NORGARD
Rome, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Big German shells continued to land today in the southern portions of Florence, which is in Allied hands, but Sir Harold Alexander's headquarters announced "there will be no need for the city itself to become a battlefield."

An Allied headquarters communiqué said south African troops had made contact with the enemy in the north banks of the Arno river within Florence. The Allied command announced more than 50,000 prisoners had been taken by the Fifth and Eighth armies in the offensive near Cassino to Florence. The total might have been higher but for Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's decision to blow up Florence's bridges.

An enemy officer who deserted the Allied lines said the German command had recently stressed the importance of avoiding the "same mistake as in Rome, by leaving the blowing up of bridges until it is too late."

Close pursuit in Rome foiled Nazi intentions of demolishing the river bridges. Both east and west of Florence, the Eighth Army was mopping up the few enemy footholds left on the south bank of the Arno. Indian and British units made advances despite stubborn resistance in the rough country northwest of Arezzo. In the upper Tiber valley northwest of Umbertide, an American and British force cleared the enemy.

Poles on the Adriatic sector made contact with the Nazis on a five-mile front in the high ground in front of the Cesano river, 35 miles below Rimini.

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Acting Secretary of State Stettinius announced today that the post-war security talks have been postponed until August 21 at the request of Russia.

Gen. Stilwell's Headquarters in India, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Although Gen. Frank Merrill has been transferred to a post in Kandy because of ill health, his famous American infantry force known as Merrill's Marauders is still fighting "somewhere in the field" in Burma, an official announcement said yesterday.

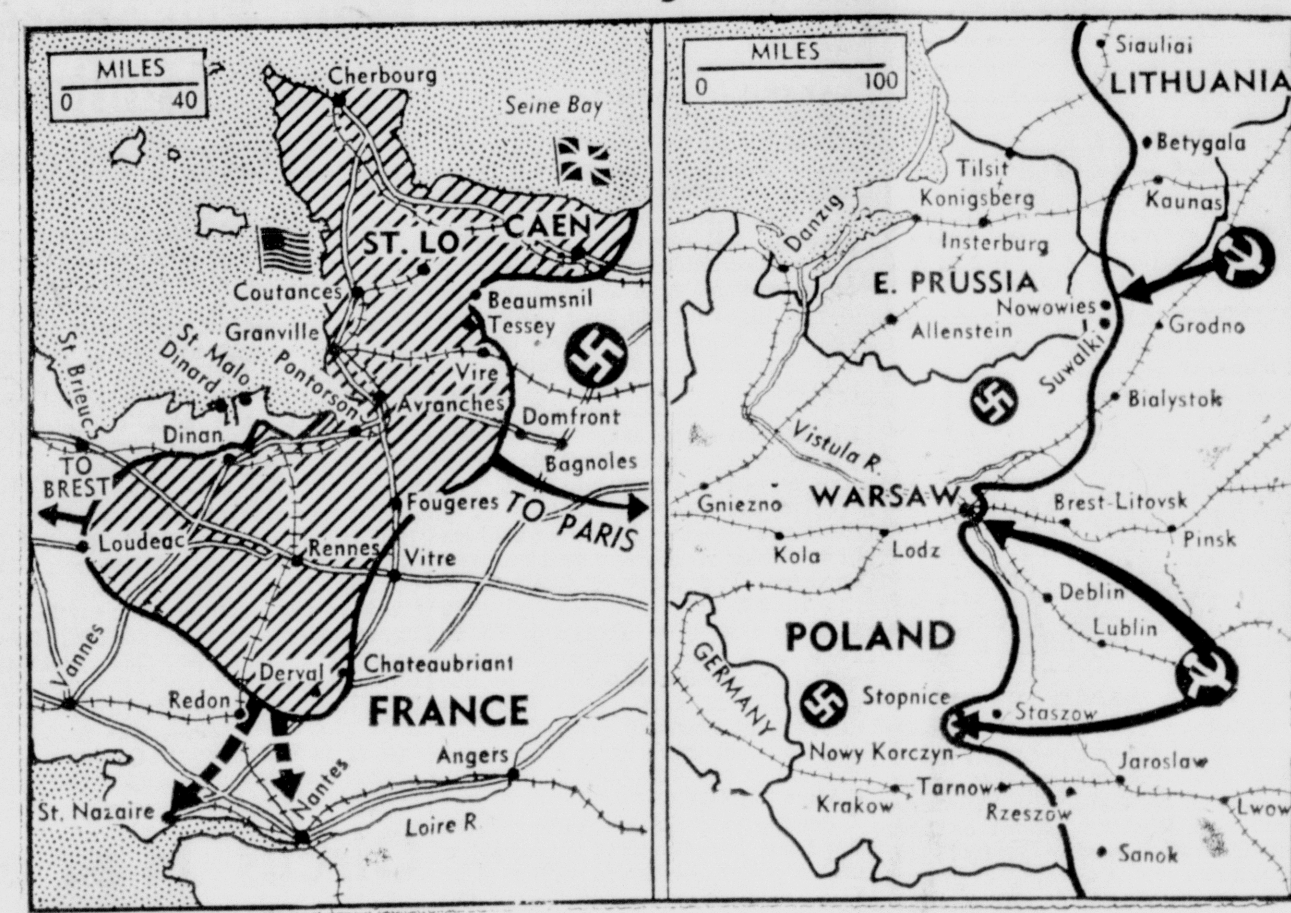

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Price ceilings as low as $1.59 each for maternity dresses and $1.05 for maternity slips were ordered by the office of Price Administration today on garments produced according to government specifications in the program to boost supplies of those scarce items.

Moscow, Aug. 7.—(AP)—American heavy bombers from England with Mustang escorts attacked a German aircraft factory yesterday. Rahmel, ten miles northwest of the Polish port of Gdynia, and ended on Russian bases without loss.

Wildcat Transit Strike is Crushed

Allied Vise Is Biting Into Two Fronts

On two fronts the Allied vise is biting into German-held soil: In France the Americans are swooping down on St. Nazaire and Nantes and moving westward in upper Brittany toward Brest as well as eastward toward Paris from pivotal Avranches; on the Polish front the Red Army is striking at Krakow from the Vistula bridgehead gains, and poised along a 100-mile front to move into East Prussia.

Eleven Red Armies Hammer At Steel Foundations Of East Wall Based On Krakow

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Moscow, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Eleven Russian army groups hammered with artillery and bombers today at the steel foundations of Germany's east wall based on Krakow, Warsaw and the forested border of East Prussia, encountering the toughest opposition in the 46-day summer offensive.

Toward the southern extremity of the 1,200-mile meandering front, the Russians captured the oil and communications center of Drobobycz, chasing the Germans in a bloody rout deep into the Carpathian mountain approaches to the Czech-Slovak border. Red planes pounded the fleeing enemy remorselessly, after destroying six troops and oil trains at the Drobobycz station.

Invasion Beach Now One Of Greatest Ports

By HENRY B. JAMESON

Invasion Beach, France, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Both water and land traffic in this—now one of the world's greatest ports—is controlled from towers similar to those used at airports to direct plane movements.

The work goes on 24 hours a day. During darkness communications are maintained over walkie-talkies. Big freighters unload their cargoes into docks, landing craft and barges.

In the crow's nest, constructed on top of the concrete foundation of a German 88 MM. gun, sit Lt. Col. Jacob Mottern of Punksutawney, Pa.

Commander of one of the combat engineer beach groups that handles the transfer of the cargo from the ships to inland supply dumps, he came in early on D-Day. "Eighty-two men from my big brigade were killed or wounded that day," Mottern said.

There are no big buildings, docks or piers but this harbor is capable of handling a bigger daily tonnage than the port of New York. It is just a beach a half mile wide that has been turned into one of the main lifelines of the American army in France.

Lancaster Visited By Severe Storm

Lancaster, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Roofs were torn from three homes, power lines went down, railroad underpasses were flooded, and streets were littered with uprooted trees as an electric storm accompanied by strong winds struck Lancaster today.

Intermittent storms over the week-end in the area caused four persons. Lightning struck a barn at the home of Norman Zeager, near Elizabethtown, destroying it and crops, livestock and farm implements in it.

Albert W. Keppel, 22, Millersville, and his 19-month-old son, Albert, Jr., were injured when they were struck by a car as they left a bus and ran in front of it across the road near their home at the height of the storm Saturday.

"Trolley Fatigue" is Troubling Soldiers

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(AP)—"Trolley fatigue" was the worst troublemaker for the soldiers guarding Philadelphia's trolleys, buses and elevated and subway trains today.

Twelve hours or more of guard duty in sweltering heat, carrying full battle equipment, including steel helmet, pack and rifle, left them worn and bedraggled before relief arrived.

"You get bounced around so much," said one G. I., "you feel like the original jumping bean."

Fight Looms Over Bills On Reconversion

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Congress comes to grips this week with reversion legislation, with a senate rights fight brewing in the senate on unemployment compensation and house Republicans condemning what they called an "accent on unemployment rather than on ways of creating employment."

The fireworks will be touched off in the senate Tuesday when the Murray-Truman-Kilgore unemployment bill and a rival measure by Senator George (D-Ga.) come up for debate.

At issue is the amount to be paid, and who shall pay it.

While unemployment legislation has the right of way on the senate floor, there is no business before the house proper this week—committees in both branches expect to report.

Resistance In India Lessens

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Aug. 7.—(AP)—British forces pursuing the Japanese beyond the captured Burmese frontier base of Tamu found no organized resistance today and they captured prisoners described officially as "in a shocking state."

In the ruins of captured Myittha, long besieged base in north Burma which Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell captured last week, piles of Japanese bodies were being buried.

First troops entering Tamu reported finding more than 200 Japanese dead or dying from wounds and starvation in the nearby village of Bashas.

From the Magauing front in northern Burma came word that Lt. en. Joseph Stilwell's forces had captured an important hill 12 miles southwest of that town after overcoming bitter enemy resistance along the Mandalay railway.

RINGLEADERS OF WALKOUT DISCHARGED

Army Spokesman Reports That Service in Philadel - phia is 100 Per Cent Normal

NEGRO IS SENT HOME

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The army restored normal transportation service in Philadelphia today and fired four leaders of the unauthorized walkout that gave the nation's second largest city a "nightmare week," cut war production and caused racial violence.

An army spokesman reported that at 10:30 a. m. service was "100 per cent normal, with every vehicle moving on schedule and soldiers guarding every vehicle."

The strike leaders were discharged as they reported for work. The four, James H. McMenamin, Frank P. Carney, William C. Dixey and Frank Thompson, are free on $2,500 bonds, pending hearings August 14 on charges of violating the Smith-Connally Act.

Only 13 of the Philadelphia Transportation Company's 6,000 operating employees failed to report at their scheduled time, an army spokesman said, adding "it is not yet known how many of them will be able to present medical certificates of illness to excuse their absence."

Dewey Gives Attention To Senate Race

By SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN
Pawling, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, refreshed after 36 hours of loafing on his 468-acre farm here in the Berkshire foothills, returns to Albany today to take a hand in choosing the Republican candidate for U. S. Senator from New York.

On the eve of the nomination, to be made by the Republican state committee here tomorrow, the post was still open with leaders waiting to confer with the Republican presidential nominee.

Dewey, who arrived at Pawling Saturday night at the end of an arduous 2,350-mile campaign trip into Pennsylvania, Illinois and Missouri, cancelled plans to return to Albany last night and deferred his departure until today. He expected to arrive at the capitol this afternoon.

WAR VETERAN KILLED

Ephrata, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Henry B. Mull, 22, Manheim, Pa., recently discharged from the army, was killed yesterday when the automobile he was driving collided near here with a car driven by Samuel F. Groff, 23, Denver, Pa. Groff was seriously injured. State police today lodged charges of involuntary manslaughter against Groff.

300 Yanks to Bring Australian Brides

An Australian Port, Aug. 7.—(AP)—More than 300 Australian brides will soon be moving into the American homes of their husbands, now busy fighting the Japanese in the southwest Pacific.

And 78 of those American homes will welcome for the first time a tiny grandson or granddaughter who became a citizen of the United States at birth because of the father's citizenship. Three years of proper legal procedure will result in the mother becoming an American, too.

Two Synthetic Oil Plants In Reich Raided

London, Aug. 7.—(AP)—More than 500 U. S. heavy bombers blasted at two synthetic oil plants deep in the Reich today in concert with 500 to 750 Liberators and Flying Fortresses which struck at vital targets over a wide area of France.

The Fifteenth Air Force sent its heavyweights from Mediterranean bases to Blechhammer, 75 miles southeast of Breslau, where they scored hits on two plants which produce much of the German army's high grade motor fuel.

Another force of Liberators, roaring into the Balkans, pounded an enemy airfield at Alibunar, 21 miles northeast of Belgrade, and oil installations on the Danube at Nivi Sad, northwest of Belgrade.

A big force of four-engined American bombers from British bases—numbering up to 750—bombed fuel tanks and depots, bridges and railway junctions over a wide stretch of France.

An equal number of Lightnings, Thunderbolts, and Mustangs guarded the big American bombers striking targets in areas east and northeast of Paris, southeast of Bordeaux, and in the Amiens region.

Today's aerial assaults followed an RAF heavy bomber raid last night on the rail junction of Hazebrouck, south of Dunkerque, and Berlin radio said planes from the south also were hitting at German targets.

While British heavy bombers rained explosives on the enemy's important north-south supply routes last night, Mosquitos ranged over Germany and a wide area of France, hammering targets near the battle zone and 100 miles beyond.

More than 2,000 American heavy bombers hit Berlin and other German industrial centers yesterday.

Texas Democrats Widely Divided

Austin, Tex., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Members of the state Democratic executive committee met here today to canvass the party vote of the July 22 primary.

But in between the vote calculations will be many a discussion of the caucus held yesterday by militant pro-Roosevelt Democrats, who have challenged the anti-Roosevelt Democrats for a showdown battle.

They hope to control the state by a nose count of delegates at the September state convention. The computing strength of each county delegation will be computed by the committee on the basis of each county's vote for the successful candidate for governor in the July primary.

WRECK NEAR LATROBE

Latrobe, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Traffic moved over the four main line tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad today after emergency crews had cleared the wreckage of 13 freight cars and repaired several hundred yards of track torn up last night. E. W. Stoops, division superintendent, said the derailment was caused when a coupling was pulled loose and dropped onto the rails.

Picnic For National Forge Employees And Families Enjoyed By Crowd Of Over 3,200

was a baseball game in which the National Forge team easily defeated the Bell Aircraft Comets, of Buffalo, 11 to 5 in six innings.

Following the ball game, a short program of talks was enjoyed. All those in attendance were extended a hearty welcome by John C. Harrington, president of the company, who also introduced the other speakers. Mr. Harrington, in his talk, paid tribute to the employees of the National Forge and Ordnance Company who are in the armed service. He also paid a fitting tribute to the memory of Walter Smith, valued employee for many years, who passed away last week.

Others who were introduced and spoke briefly were Col. R. L. Dunkle, chief of the Industrial Division, Pittsburgh Ordnance District, United States Army; Commander R. G. Walling, chief of the Erie District for Inspection of Naval Material, United States Navy; Commander Z. M. de Carvalho, resident inspector for the Brazilian Navy; Alexander P. Reed, of Pittsburgh, first vice president of National Forge; Carl E. Johnson, of Irvine, first retired employee of the company, and Wade Ransom, chairman of the plant grievance (Turn to Page Five)

Smith, Jr., member of the 27th class of aviation cadets graduated Friday from Columbus Army Air Field, Miss., arrived Sunday night to spend a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Smith, 108 Central avenue. His next assignment will be transitional training on a B-17 at Hendrix Field, Fla. Lt. Smith entered pilot training last September and attended flying schools at Americus, Ga., and Greenwood, Miss., before taking up advanced training at Columbus.

WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Sheffield Aug. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, of Deerlick, have had word that their son, Pfc. George Shultz, was slightly wounded in France on July 11 and is now hospitalized in England. He has three other brothers in service, Sgt. Stephen in Italy, with 48 completed missions to his credit; Pfc. Peter, stationed in Florida, and Pfc. John, in Illinois.

T/5 Warren M. Johnson has arrived from Camp Van Dorn, Miss., to spend a ten-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, 206 Connecticut avenue.

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor at Warren, Pa., up to 2:00 p. m. August 15, 1944, for all the live white ash timber marked or designated for cutting and all the merchantable dead white ash timber located on an area embracing 480 acres in Warren's 5220, 5221, and 5231, Linestown township and Warrant 5219, Watson Township, Warren county; and Warrant 5220, Hickory township, Forest County, on the watersheds of Queen Creek, Piney Run and Otter Creek, Allegheny National Forest, Pa., estimated to be 130 M board feet, more or less. No bid will be considered of less than $25.00 per M board ft. One thousand dollars ($1,000.00) must be submitted with each bid to be applied to the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to conditions of the sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before any bids are submitted, a prospective bidder should examine the system of marking on the sale area. Full information concerning the timber, conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor at Warren, Pa., or from the District Ranger at Sheffield, Pa. The District Ranger will arrange to show this timber to interested parties.

Last Community Recreation Night of Summer Scheduled

Once again there will be something for everyone at the Community Recreation Night on Friday evening at the Beatty School premises. The committee headed by Robert Wilder met last evening at the home of Georgia Spinnery, 109 St. Clair street, to make final plans for the evening's activities. The program will start off with a softball game on Beatty field at 6 o'clock. The First Methodists and the Grace Methodists will play the last scheduled game in the second round of the Y. M. C. A. Softball League.

Special feature for this week's party will be a Community Sing on Beatty School lawn at 7:30. Harry A. Summers will direct the sing. Grace Young is the committee member in charge of this feature. It is hoped that there will be a large turnout of all ages for this community sing, the first of its kind in Warren for some time.

Specialties are being planned for the period between 8 and 8:30 in the gym, which will be announced in greater detail later in the week. Some amusing mixers are being planned for those who wish to participate. Following the specialties, badminton, shuffleboard and ping pong will be set up in the gym, and will continue through the evening.

At 8:30 the orchestra will start playing for outdoor dancing on the court, with provision made for going inside in the event of rain. The floor show is scheduled for a half hour earlier than usual, at 10 o'clock. Nick Geracimos and Bill Clinger will again be in charge. Teresa Fino, assisted by Jo Ann Phillips and their committee of 30, have planned a greater variety of refreshments at this last party of the summer series, sponsored by the Community P. T. A. Council. There will be service at the soft drinks bar and at the tables in the outdoor cabaret.

NEW MANUAL

The Pennsylvania Manual for 1943 has been received by The Times-Mirror through the courtesy of Dr. L. E. Chapman, State Senator. The publication is one of great value in the amount of information which it gives relative to the state and its political subdivisions.

NAZARENE PICNIC

The annual church and Sunday school picnic of the First Church of the Nazarene will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening in Crescent Park, beginning at one o'clock. All members are invited to attend. The picnic will be served at 5:30 o'clock. Each one is to bring his own table service and sugar, the coffee, cream, milk, lemonade and ice cream to be provided.

FICTITIOUS NAME

Elaine S. Lebkuecher, 10 Goodrich street, Hempstead, L. I. has applied for the registration of a fictitious name, "Elaine S. Lebkuecher Shop" under which she will conduct business. The place of business is the Smith store at Pennsylvania avenue, east with George L. Smith as local agent, for his daughter, who applied for the right to use the fictitious name. The store as in the past will buy and sell seeds, ammunition, hardware, etc.

CAR CRASHES

Pennsylvania State Police from the local barracks investigated a crash which occurred about 2:20 a. m. Saturday on the Unit Oil curve just outside the borough limits of town, when George McCallister, 29, of South Heights, Beaver county, wrecked his 1937 Chevrolet coach against a telephone pole. McCallister, who was treated at Warren General Hospital for brush burns about the face and chest, told police he was blinded by lights of an approaching car and ran off the road when the machine skidded. Damage to his car will amount to about $300 according to the police.

MAY SWITCH PLANS

From an indirect source it is learned that the U. S. Army in sending war prisoners into this section to work in the woods may not use the Bull Hill CCC camp for housing the prisoners. No word has been received recently relative to the matter but from all indications the Conscientious Objectors who are housed at the Red Bridge Camp, between Kinzua and Kane, will be moved to the Bull Hill camp and the war prisoners sent into the Red Bridge camp. Necessary papers in the matter have been sent to Washington but as yet no definite word has been received as to the projected placing of prisoners in wood cutting camps in this section.

Rationed Motorists Now Get Extra Gasoline Mileage

All over the country, thousands of rationed car owners, truck fleets, taxi cabs, motorcycles and tractor owners report gasoline savings up to 30%. These people have been enjoying extra gasoline mileage by installing a Vacu-matic to their carburetor. This new device is entirely automatic. Nothing to regulate or adjust and can be installed in 10 minutes. The Vacu-matic Co., 7617-857-H State St., Wauwatosa (13) Wisconsin, are offering a Vacu-matic to anybody who will install it on their car and help introduce it to others. Write them today for particulars as to how you can get your Vacu-matic or just send your name and address on a penny post card. (adv)

Legion Post To Help Buy Five Bombers

Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion, through its subordinate Posts is engaged in a drive to sell $2,000,000 in War Bonds for the purpose of providing funds to purchase five bombers to be named in honor of deceased Past Department Commanders; David J. Davis, J. Leo Collins, Joseph H. Thompson, Edward E. Hollenback and William F. Smith. The drive is on for a period of 17 days—August 1 to 17—with a final report to be made at the opening session of the Department Convention at Harrisburg on August 17.

The time is so short it will be impossible to personally contact many friends of the Legion, but it will be appreciated by the Legion if any who are buying bonds will request the agency through which the bonds are purchased, to give credit to the local Chief Cornplanter Post No. 135.

Any sales so made will not only assist the Legion in reaching its objective, but will also boost the total figures for Warren county.

Hun Prisoners Being Hunted By State Police

Three escaped German prisoners of war, who fled from Camp Letchworth Park, Livingston Co., N. Y., between Rochester and Olean, are sought by Army officials, FBI agents and state police, who believed their flight will carry them into the Erie area. Descriptions of the trio, dressed in regulation prisoner-of-war uniforms of blue denim with large letters, "P-W" painted on the back and knees, were issued as follows: Richard Bleck, 18, P-W No. 8WG 63400, five feet 4 1/2 inches tall, 156 pounds, brown hair, brown eyes, freckled complexion, Eugene Reininger, 21, P-W No. 121528, five feet 11 inches tall, 170 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair. Guenther Hannemann Obergefreiter, 22, P-W No. 8WG-63947, five feet 5 1/2 inches tall, 140 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, scar behind right ear.

Circus Here For Exhibition On South Side

Bailey Brothers Circus arrived in Warren from Kane over the weekend and have their tents pitched on the Brewery lot on the South Side. The show came from Kane where it exhibited on Saturday. Quite a few of the genus small boy were on hand when the first trucks came rolling into the lot and they labored long and hard assisting in the work of erecting the tents.

Sunday on the show grounds was a busy day and in addition to getting the canvas into the air crews of painters were at work on trucks, poles, etc., adding new paint which makes the show look spic and span. The constant task of refurnishing a show is a big one and Bailey Brothers believe in having their paraphernalia looking neat and natty.

Two performances will be given here today and the press agent promises some entertaining features on a program replete with the usual wonder found under canvas. The show will go to Titusville from this city.

YM Victory Camp Plans Progressing

Victory camp which will be held at Jeffmore, the local Boy Scouts Camp, from August 15 to 18.

The camp will be under the direction of Lloyd Shirk, Program Secretary of the YWCA, who will be assisted by selected older boys. The program for the three day camp has been planned to include all those activities to which a camper looks forward, soft ball games, campfires, exploring, zell-ball, sings, stories, stunts, treasure hunt, as well as instruction in camp craft and nature lore.

The campers will hike to and from the camp. Their supplies and equipment will be taken to the camp by truck. The campers will bring their own mess kits preferably tin or enamel and their blankets and sheets.

The camp will be limited to twenty boys, who are members of the Cadet and Junior sections of the YWCA. The enrollment will be divided equally between the two classes but if in the event that either the Cadet section or the Junior section is not filled three days before the registrations close, the remaining vacancies will be filled by boys from the other class.

Registrations for the second period will close August 9. Additional information of the camp can be secured by contacting the local YMCA office.

WAC Enlisting Officer To Be Here Thursday

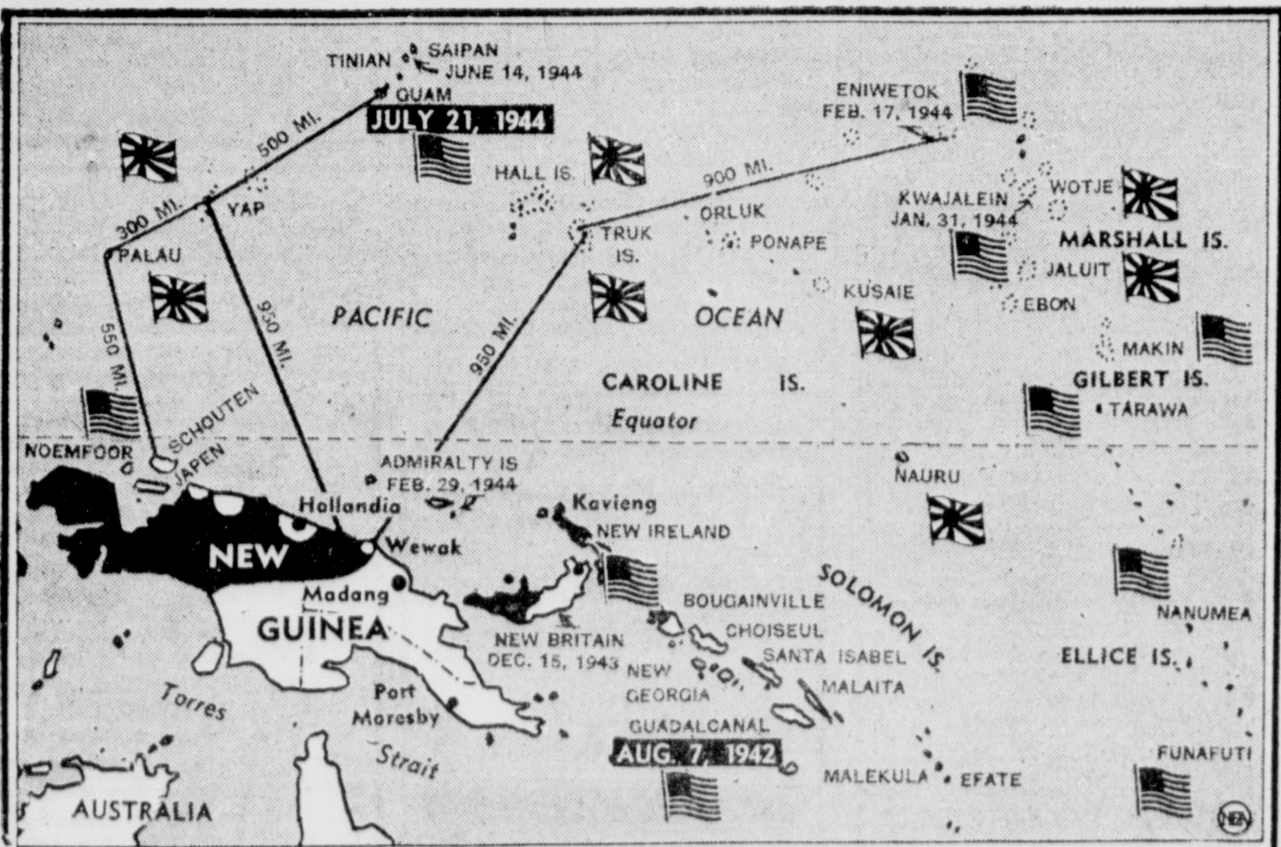

On Tuesday, August 8th, Lt. Esther Potts, Officer in Charge of recruiting for the Erie District, will visit Warren to recruit girls for the Third Service Command.

Women joining the WAC and leaving from this district can request station and job assignment in this Command and return after basic training to serve in a post, camp or station in Pennsylvania, Virginia or Maryland, where they will be close enough to their homes to return on a three-day pass. You can also choose the job or type of work you want to do. If you already have some particular skill you can do the same kind of work for the Army. If you would like to learn a new trade, the Army will teach you "on the job".

For more information, see Lt. Potts at the YWCA Tuesday between 12:00 and 5:00 and night appointments can be arranged by telephone.

Warren Veteran of Guadalcanal Spending Furlough Home Two Years After First D-Day

When the United States Marines hit the beaches of Guadalcanal, Tulagi and Gavutu Islands in the Solomons on Aug. 7, 1942, it marked America's first "D-Day," the first American invasion against aggressor nations. The map shows the Stars and Stripes, in the two years since Guadalcanal, have been planted on more and more Japanese possessions with increasing rapidity, culminating in the double blow at Guam and Tinian. As the Guadalcanal campaign dragged out for six months, the jungles, swamps and mosquitoes of the Solomons Islands bred in the Marines and Army infantrymen a new concept of war and their progress on Saipan and on Guam testifies that they learned their lessons well. Inserted on the photo of Marines moving up on Guadalcanal is shoulder patch, first of its kind in the history of the Corps, worn by the famous First Marine Division to commemorate their proud record.

Today is a memorable anniversary for Marine Sgt. Irving Headlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Headlund, N. Irvine street, home on a thirty-day furlough after spending two years in the South Pacific.

It was two years ago today that Sgt. Headlund's unit participated in the historic Guadalcanal invasion. It was four months and fifteen days afterward that Sgt.

Headlund, along with hundreds of other veterans of that now famous engagement were hospitalized in Australia where he remained for nine months.

During his stay in the South Pacific Sgt. Headlund participated in battles at New Guinea, New Britain, Good Enough Island, Cape Worcester, Borgen Bay, Telarea, Eboli and other islands along that far-flung battlefield. He also made stops at New Zealand, Tulagi and the New Hebrides during his "tour" in the Pacific.

Sgt. Headlund's unit arrived at San Diego, Calif., July 7, and he reached home about two weeks later. Next week his furlough will end when he reports to New River, N. C. He enlisted in October, 1940, at Pittsburgh, and started training a short time later at Parris Island, S. C.

If asked about the slight limp he brought home with him he'll admit casually that it is arthritis. And he'll not mention unless asked, that his limp is caused by medicine he is taking for malaria. The women who wouldn't sit and wait

IT ISN'T EASY to say "good-by" to the family, and to friends, and to nice long week ends.

It may not be natural for a woman to salute and stand at attention and say "Yes, sir"...

But ask any Wac if she'd change places with anyone in the world—and the answer would be "No!"

For deep down inside, every Wac knows the enormous satisfaction of being truly useful at a time of critical need.

The Wac spirit is a gallant spirit. The spirit of women who would rather be in the war, than sitting and waiting for it to end.

The Wac pride is an honest pride. In a job well done. In being part of the Army of the U. S.

You really have to hand it to the women of the WAC....

For they symbolize everything that is America.

Bradford Couple Marry in Warren

Mr. and Mrs. Philip George, High street, Bradford, announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Pfc. Maurice B. Crump, of Cottage Row, that city, the ceremony having been performed at 6 p. m. August 3 in the First Methodist church of Warren by Rev. Wayne Furman.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Glenn Elliott, sister of the bridegroom, and Nick Creola, both of Warren.

The bride wore a street frock of magenta, with matching hat and shoulder veil and a corsage of white gladioli. Her matron of honor wore ice blue, with plum accessories and yellow rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of Glenn C. Elliott, storekeeper third class in the U. S. Navy, and Mrs. Elliott, in Pleasant township.

Later the newlyweds left for a short wedding trip. Both are graduates of Bradford High School and Pfc. Crump is currently located with an army unit at Camp Livingston, La.

Local Couple Wed In Little Church

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abplanalp, 303 Jackson avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Clarence A. Bogges, gunner's mate third class in the U. S. Navy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bogges, 28 Franklin street, formerly of Charleston, W. Va. The ceremony took place in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York City at 7 p. m. July 27. The bride wore a sheer pink frock with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage. The bridesmaid, Miss Jeanne Dailey, of Irvine wore a coral silk gown with white accessories and white gardenia corsage. The best man was Erroll Birnie, gunner's mate third class, of Newark, N. J.

When the newlyweds arrived from New York for a short leave with their parents, they were honored with a dinner party given by the bridegroom's parents.

committee, who spoke on behalf of the employees. Also introduced were Duane and Robert Wilder, of Warren, sons of the late C. E. Wilder, founder of National Forge. Accompanying Commander Walling was Lieut. Richard Thompson, U. S. Navy, aide to the Erie district officer.

All of the speakers commended the employees of National Forge for the fine record of production they have made and urged to continue to back the men in the service by keeping up this fine record.

The program of sports, which followed the talks, was another highlight of the day, with boys, girls, men and women all having a part in the fun. Winners of the various events included the following:

Boys—Watermelon eating contest, Cleatus Remmy; pie eating contest, Ben Patrick.

Girls—Shoe race, Lois Peterson; egg race, Betty Mesler.

Women—Husband calling contest, Phyllis Elmquist; rolling pin throwing contest, Helen Deshner; shoe race, Mrs. Garner Wilcox.

In the women's tug-of-war contest, the shop team defeated the main office by a close margin. On the winning team were Caroline Johnson, Marguerite Brown, Ardelle Nicholson, Rita Goughier, Josephine Kushner and Carol Westfall.

Feature of the men's sports was a series of tug-of-war contests. In the preliminaries, the first shift representatives defeated both the second and third shifts for the privilege of meeting Ernie Crull's Constructioners, but the latter outfit came through to take the plant championship. On the winning team were Lloyd Crull, Floyd Briggs, Leonard Engle, Harry Hubbard, Al Thomas and Robert Corbin.

Winding up the sports program Dave Thompson finally capturing was the greased pig chase, with the big porker after a spirited battle.

Following the sports program there was a brief lull in the activities before the serving of the sumptuous chicken dinner. Just previous to which the Rev. Samuel Stines of Youngsville, father of Wendell Stines, who is now in the armed services, asked grace. During the dinner a fine concert was presented by the Forge band, augmented by musicians from the Youngsville High School band, the Struthers-Wells band and the V. F. W. band of Warren.

At 7:15 o'clock, members of the Youngsville American Legion post lowered the colors while the band played the Star Spangled Banner. At this time the entire assembly paused for one moment in silent prayer for the boys of National Forge who are in the armed services.

The Country Store which followed was one of the outstanding events on the program. With "Doug" Kropf acting very capable as master of ceremonies, prizes consisting of hams, groceries, flour, candy and live chickens were given away. At this time, also, Arthur Lind was awarded a jar containing 468 pennies as a reward for having guessed nearest the correct number. His guess was 472.

Winners of the various prizes included the following:

By Dobs, Mrs. John Yucha, William Haller, Margaret Anderson, Joan Armstrong, Denise Haller, James Messler, Jr., Dennis Huckabone, Mrs. August Cerra, Bernice Hendrickson.

In the contest to determine the largest family on the grounds, the winner was Ray Reynolds, who had ten present. He was presented with a basket of groceries, while the runner-up was Tom Bowers, who had seven members of his family present. He received five pounds of sugar.

Special prizes were presented to Harry Swartzfager and Roy Lightner, each receiving a grab bag prize consisting of a live chicken.

The evening's program was completed with which were enjoyed by all those present.

During the afternoon and evening, special entertainment was provided for the small children and a committee of women was on hand to direct play on the playground equipment which was installed.

Deserving of special mention was the efficient manner in which the chicken dinner was served to such a large gathering. Within approximately an hour and forty minutes, the entire crowd of more than three thousand persons had been served and all of the food was piping hot from start to finish.

Although there was a first aid tent on the grounds, with two trained nurses in attendance throughout the day, no accidents were reported and very few persons required any attention by the nurses.

One of the most popular places throughout the afternoon was the tent where soft drinks were served. Eight thousand bottles of beverages were given away during the picnic.

Much comment was made upon the fine manner in which the committee members took care of the parking of cars. At the close of the program, all of the automobiles were moved quickly and with no confusion, due to the fine arrangements made in advance.

General chairman for the picnic was D. G. Kropf, director of safety at the National Forge. He deserves much credit for his fine work in supervising the outing.

Also deserving of commendation are the members of the plant grievance committee headed by Wade Ransom, and the members of the various sub-committees which contributed much to the success of the outing.

HERE'S HOW YOUR TRUCK CAN HELP WIN THIS WAR!

All along your regular delivery routes are homes with vitally needed war material lying idle . . . waste paper! We've got to get that waste paper in to help win this war!

Our armed forces use 700,000 different items made or wrapped with paper . . . blood plasma containers, supply parachutes, ammunition cases. And waste paper reserves are dangerously low!

Your truck can render a patriotic service. Here's what you can do about it.

When your trucks make regular deliveries, they could collect waste paper . . . ask the housewife for her tied bundles of old cartons, wrappings, and newspapers . . . turn them in at one of our waste paper collection depots.

Don't let your trucks return empty. Put them into the war. They can serve the country. Have them collect waste paper. Every trip may save a life!

FOUR YEARS AGO, Hans WAS IN OUR SHOES

HANS is a German. Four years ago, he felt the way many of us feel today. He thought the war was as good as won.

He had reason to think so. Far more reason than we have. France was his. England was bloody after Dunkerque. The German Army seemed invincible.

But the war wasn't almost over. And now it is our armies that are on the march. It is our bombers blasting German cities. Victory is in our grasp. It's up to us to see that we don't let it slip through our fingers the way Hans did.

Most of us know that this is the military crisis of this war—the time when our fighting men must give everything they have, not once in a while but hour after hour—day after day.

But this alone is not enough. The lives of brave men are not enough. Money is needed too.

For this is the financial crisis of the war just as surely as it is the military crisis. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment is being destroyed in battle. The money to replace it must come from us, and come quickly.

If every last one of us here at home will try to match the constant, day-to-day drive of the men who fight our battles, we'll raise that money.

The way to do it is to put every cent we can possibly invest into U.S. War Bonds. Not some of us. All of us. Not once in a while during a drive, but regularly . . . every pay day.

Can we do the job that Hans couldn't do? Can we—voluntarily—keep making sacrifices when Victory seems just around the corner? The answer is up to you.

Bell Aircraft Team Drops Both Games Played at Irvine Against the National Forgers

The National Forge club twice defeated the over-rated Bell Aircraft team over the weekend.

In the first game, which was played Saturday to highlight the Forgers' picnic, both teams were held scoreless in the first inning. In the second, the Bell club failed to do any scoring as the Warrenites connected for three hits, including a double by pitcher Diz Hines, two walks, and a fielder's choice to tally five runs to give them quite an edge.

The next inning saw no score for the Bellmen while the iron-horned had another field day. An error, a single by McKinney, and a double by third baseman Giegherich collected three more to make the count 8-0. McKinney was injured and had to be replaced by Aumer.

Came the fourth and no score for a change. The Bellmen began to play ball in the fifth as they scored three runs. Hines was replaced by Hoyt. The Forgers again failed to score. In the sixth the Buffalo boys connected for two more tallies which made the count 8-5.

Warren regained their scoring punch in the sixth as Morrison and Rosequist doubled, Aumer singled and Andy Natale got on base on an error. This rally brought them three more runs to give the Forgers a six run lead. The Bell team made on last effort in the seventh as they accounted for one run, the final score being 11-8.

In Sunday's encounter, the Bell team started out big guns as they connected for two scores. Came the mighty Forgers to bat in five runs from four singles and a double. There were no attempts to score in the second, but in the third the Buffalonians came through with their last tally of the game.

In the Forge half of the fourth they crossed the plate with two more runs to make the count 7-3. Again, in the sixth, the Warren boys dug in and made themselves two more runs, which terminated the scoring. The Bell boys made one last effort in the ninth to get back into the ball game but couldn't quite make it.

An attempt is being made to bring Jamestown Newberries to Warren on Wednesday. This team is rated as one of the best clubs in Jamestown.

PONY LEAGUE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 7—(P)—Bob Alexander, big right hander, returned to Wellsville last night to hurl four-hit ball and lead the Yankees to a 2-4 victory over the Erie Sailors in the second game of a PONY League double-header. The Yankees also took the opener, 3-1.

Alexander, who has been with the Norfolk Tars this season, fanned 15 Sailors with his fast-breaking curve ball. He played with the Yankees last year.

The cellar-dwelling Bradford Blue Wings defeated the Batavia Clippers, 5-4, in their opener, but the Clippers got a 7-5 win in the second game, which was called at the end of the sixth because of a Pennsylvania law prohibiting Sunday games after 6 p. m.

The Hornell Pirates took both ends of their twin bill with the Jamestown Falcons, 4-1 and 4-3. The Olean Oilers split a double-header with the Lockport Cubs, winning the opener, 5-2, but losing the second, 6-4.

Today's games: Batavia at Bradford, Hornell at Jamestown, Erie at Wellsville, Olean at Lockport.

Browns Appear Shoo-In For Pennant if They Break Even During Coming Road Schedule

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Browns appear a shoo-in for the American league pennant—provided they can break even in their 22-game eastern swing which starts Wednesday against the New York Yankees in New York.

Closing their home stand yesterday with a double triumph over the Cleveland Indians, 9-6 and 6-4, with the aid of a big six-run inning in each game, the Browns ran their winning to eight, one shy of their season-opening skid.

The Browns are enjoying their biggest first place lead of the season, six and a half games, despite a 24-26 game record away from home. The reason for this is their remarkable gain at their Sportsman's Park home. Their latest and best home stand shows a record of 14 victories and five defeats for an all-over record of 38 wins and 16 losses—a .704 percentage.

If the Browns can win 11 of their next 22 games, they seem safe to be in first place on their return—to conclude their schedule with 23 out of their last 28 games at home.

On the other hand, both the Red Sox and the Yankees, the Browns' most persistent rivals must end their schedule abroad. Neither has fared well away from home, the Red Sox winning 25 and losing 29 on foreign fields and the Yankees emerging triumphant in but 21 of their 56 contests on the road.

Nelson Potter, pitching his first game since Umpire Hubbard ejected him from a game for blowing on his hands, was credited with his 10th victory in the St. Louis-Cleveland opener, while Dennis Galehouse won his fourth in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh shattered the Chicago Cubs' 11-game winning streak by taking both ends of a double header 13-5 and 5-4. The double header dropped the bruins back into the second division, one percentage point behind the fourth place New York Giants.

Detroit swept a twin-bill from the Chicago White Sox, 10-3 and 3-1 before 18,501 fans. Dizzy Trout beater to win 17 games, giving up only five hits in the nightcap.

Giants needed only an even split to regain the first division, as opener from the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-2, for Harry Feldman's ninth victory, and dropping the Yankees to two games from the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 and 1-0.

The Boston Braves dumped the Brooklyn Dodgers into the cellar again with a 14-4 and 8-7 double pasting.

The Red Sox and Washington Senators traded one-run decisions, the Senators winning the opener, 3-2, and the Sox annexing the finale 5-4.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-4 in 14 innings when Johnny Hopp doubled to score Max Lanier, but may have lost the services of Pitcher Ted Wilks. Wilks was hit on the side of the head by a line drive off the bat of Steve Mesner in the 14th inning and had to be taken to a hospital.

Fans Given a Baseball Treat By Buffalo Colored Giants

Coming to Warren advertised as the best colored club in western New York state, the Buffalo Colored Giants treated the large gathering of fans at Russell Field yesterday to some of the best played baseball seen in Warren since the Homestead Grays and Philadelphia Stars played here several years ago. They showed themselves to be a first class club in every respect. Putting in their appearance long before game time they made a good impression on the field, with their natty uniforms, kept the game going at a lively pace, pleased the fans with their continual chatter and showed lots of power at the plate getting sixteen hits while playing a beautiful defensive game in the field.

McQueen brought the fans to their feet when he made a beautiful one handed catch of Lindquist's drive in the second inning as did Mallory in the ninth when he went back and took Jewell's long drive into center.

The colored boys went right to work on Rose in the first getting two hard drives for the first two men. A double play erased the next hitter and one runner but Collins tripled scoring McQueen and he scored on C. Judson's single. Those two runs started their scoring which was continued in the third with two, one in the fifth, sixth and seventh and three in the eighth. They garnered eleven hits off Rose during his six inning stay and nicked Schussler for five more in the next three.

Brook kept the Struthers boys eating out of his hand for seven innings, Jiggs Bonavita being the only one to solve his pitching, Jiggs getting two hits one of which was a long double. In the eighth, however, the Warren club got after Brook, McLean getting a base on balls, Lucia forcing him at second, Swanson advanced him to second with a single and "Al" Bonavita was safe on the pitchers error filling the bases. Schussler then dropped a Texas leaguer into right scoring Lucia and Swanson. On the throw in Bonavita scored and Schussler went to second and scored a moment later on Vesling's single. This ended the scoring of the game.

The Struthers team has been fortunate in being able to bring the Jamestown All Stars to Russell Field, Wednesday, August 9th for a game at 6:15 o'clock. They are playing this game just before they leave for Wichita, Kansas where they will represent New York state in the semi-pro tournament. Another large crowd is expected at this game.

Tough Game Lost Saturday By Struthers

The Struthers-Wells ball club lost a tough game to the Chautauque team on Saturday afternoon 10-6. Most of the boys' experience as any ball hit into the field was headed uphill. The iron-horned was minus two of their regular outfielders, Chuck McLean and Bill Martin.

In the first, the Struthers came through with one run. The balls hit one right after the other were muffed by the Chautauque shortstop. The Lakemen also had a similar break. Vesling fumbled three in a row to give the Chautauques a 3-0 lead.

Baski-Savol Meet Before Sell-out House

Chicago, Aug. 7—(P)—Illinois version of a "duration" world heavyweight bout—a 10-round battle between 22-year-old Joe Baski of Kulpmont, Pa., and Ring-W Lee Savol of Paterson, N. J., expected to draw Wrigley Field night with upwards of 25,000 for a goodly portion gratis-admittance.

This would be Chicago's largest fight turnout since Joe Louis lost Jim Braddock's row in 1937. It drew some 45,000 cash customers. With the army fully occupied, Champion Joe Louis and his 11 foremost challengers, Billy Collins and Mallory, hits off Rose 11-6; off Schussler 5 in 3; off Brooks 5 in 7 1/3; off Abrams none 1 2/3. Bases on balls off Brooks off Abrams 1. Stolen bases 5. Runs 11. Home runs 0. Umpires Gleason and Wright.

Chapter 29

LOUISE stood at the living room window, looking down on the rain-drenched street below. The snow, which had begun in the late afternoon, had turned into a steady drizzle at nightfall, and now the rain was coming down in buckets—yes, buckets. It seemed to have no effect on the residents of Washington Avenue. They were scurrying along—some with umbrellas, some without—laden with bundles of various shapes and sizes, apparently oblivious to the downpour. It was almost as if they were saying: "What's a little rainstorm—when Christmas is less than two weeks away?"

It seemed incredible to Louise that November had come and gone, that today was the fifteenth of December. So many changes had taken place since that bright day she and Martha had gone to the airport to meet Angel and Baby Jeanne.

"Was it only last June?" mused Louise. "What was just six months ago. It seems like a lifetime. So many things have happened. So many people have come—and gone."

Angel had not only gone to the smart little apartment in Beekman Place to live, Right now she was singing at one of the smartest night clubs in town. In a little while—at ten-thirty—she would be broadcasting direct from the club.

Baby Jeanne, too, had gone a long, long way from the dreary war room at Washington Avenue. She was living on Gramercy Park with her own grandparents, her mother having returned to the sanitarium out west. Martha, always a welcome visitor, saw Baby Jeanne now and then, and relaxed with her—just as she used to do. But now she was almost a stranger. She had been dropped by to say he was off to Washington for a day or two, and he had seemed so restless and preoccupied that it was almost a relief when he left.

There had been times when Louise had felt that she had not only lost the red-headed cameraman, but loved him. There had been times, too, when she'd thought he was falling in love with her—that night of her party when he'd come up the stairs and kissed her so unexpectedly; the night at the SS Omaha when the were dancing together and he told her that some day they must have a little talk.

"But he was only sorry for me," she raged now. "Or maybe he was handing me a line all the time. Newspapersmen are like that—I've heard. All men, in fact, are like that."

After a little while, Martha came and tapped on the door. "Are you all right, dear?" she asked. "It's ten-thirty now. Time for Angel to sing. I've turned on the radio."

AS Louise went into the living room, she could hear her sister's voice, sweet and clear, coming over the air. She felt a thrill of pride, almost a choking sensation, as she listened to that familiar voice singing that familiar refrain: "Thanks for the Memories." Angel's voice seemed richer and fuller tonight, and there was a new saxophone. As a rule, she stayed home to study on week nights, but tonight, he had broken the rule and gone out.

Yes, she thought now as she watched the raindrops beat against the window panes, they were all going along. They were all going places in one way or another. Only she, Louise, had stood still.

Not even to herself would she admit that much of her present unrest was because of Dick Stanley. Like all the others, he had come—and he had gone. She had not seen him for three weeks, and then for only a few minutes. He had dropped by to say he was off to Washington for a day or two, and he had seemed so restless and preoccupied that it was almost a relief when he left.

There had been times when Louise had felt that she had not only lost the red-headed cameraman, but loved him. There had been times, too, when she'd thought he was falling in love with her—that night of her party

After a little while, Martha came and tapped on the door. "Are you all right, dear?" she asked. "It's ten-thirty now. Time for Angel to sing. I've turned on the radio."

AS Louise went into the living room, she could hear her sister's voice, sweet and clear, coming over the air. She felt a thrill of pride, almost a choking sensation, as she listened to that familiar voice singing that familiar refrain: "Thanks for the Memories." Angel's voice seemed richer and fuller tonight, and there was a new saxophone. As a rule, she stayed home to study on week nights, but tonight, he had broken the rule and gone out.

Yes, she thought now as she watched the raindrops beat against the window panes, they were all going along. They were all going places in one way or another. Only she, Louise, had stood still.

Not even to herself would she admit that much of her present unrest was because of Dick Stanley. Like all the others, he had come—and he had gone. She had not seen him for three weeks, and then for only a few minutes. He had dropped by to say he was off to Washington for a day or two, and he had seemed so restless and preoccupied that it was almost a relief when he left.

LOUISE stood at the living room window, looking down on the rain-drenched street below. The snow, which had begun in the late afternoon, had turned into a steady drizzle at nightfall, and now the rain was coming down in buckets—yes, buckets. It seemed to have no effect on the residents of Washington Avenue. They were scurrying along—some with umbrellas, some without—laden with bundles of various shapes and sizes, apparently oblivious to the downpour. It was almost as if they were saying: "What's a little rainstorm—when Christmas is less than two weeks away?"

It seemed incredible to Louise that November had come and gone, that today was the fifteenth of December. So many changes had taken place since that bright day she and Martha had gone to the airport to meet Angel and Baby Jeanne.

"Was it only last June?" mused Louise. "What was just six months ago. It seems like a lifetime. So many things have happened. So many people have come—and gone."

Angel had not only gone to the smart little apartment in Beekman Place to live, Right now she was singing at one of the smartest night clubs in town. In a little while—at ten-thirty—she would be broadcasting direct from the club.

Baby Jeanne, too, had gone a long, long way from the dreary war room at Washington Avenue. She was living on Gramercy Park with her own grandparents, her mother having returned to the sanitarium out west. Martha, always a welcome visitor, saw Baby Jeanne now and then, and relaxed with her—just as she used to do. But now she was almost a stranger. She had been dropped by to say he was off to Washington for a day or two, and he had seemed so restless and preoccupied that it was almost a relief when he left.

WE

humans have short memories. Back in '29 we said prosperity would last forever. It didn't. In 1933 we said depression was here to stay. It wasn't. Now we say money will continue to come "easy". It won't. Wise men and women face the facts and put some of today's earnings into a bank account. They know they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by being farsighted and thrifty.

Band Concert Is Enjoyed At State Hospital

The patients at the Warren State Hospital turned out on Thursday night to listen to the band of the Veterans of Foreign Wars who ably conducted by Leidy Williams. It was planned that the concert should be held in the baseball field where a capacity crowd is usually accommodated, but just as the instruments were being tuned, the "inverted bowl" generously contributed large drops of condensed vapor for which all had been playing for weeks. A hasty transfer was effected without confusion to the congregate dining room in the main building where the carefully selected program which delighted its audience was uninterrupted. "Thanks a lot" and "It was swell" reverberated through the dormitories and corridors long after the entertainers had departed. The hospital is grateful to the Veterans of Foreign Wars whose thoughtfulness made a bright side to an otherwise dull evening.

More Forest County Men Are Called

Eight men from local board No. 1, Forest county, have been ordered up for induction at Erie on August 7, and 11 others have been called for their pre-induction examination on August 14.

Men scheduled for induction: William M. Shaffer, Sharon; Area F. Hart, Baltimore, Md., (transferred); Richard M. Range, Youngsville; Simon B. Wolfgang, Marienville; Walter L. Blum, Wyncroft; Paul McMahon, Sheffield; James E. Burnside, Centerville, (transferred); Wendell R. Burns, Brookston.

Men scheduled for pre-induction examination: Orion H. Hillard, East Hickory; David F. Shields, Marienville; Robert R. Leonard, R. D., Tionesta.

Pre-Induction Meeting Is Well Attended

Despite the heat wave and the severe storm, which broke earlier in the same evening, the Pre-Induction meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday evening at 8 o'clock was attended by 25 interested men.

The Selectees were addressed by Dr. Hilding A. Bengt, who spoke helpfully of the mental and physical adjustments a man should be prepared to make as he enters military service. A forum period for discussion of questions raised by the selectees followed the address. Those on the information panel, besides Dr. Bengt, were M. R. Emery, of Selective Service Board No. 1, Montgomery McClellan and Ralph H. Wagner.

A delicious and generous luncheon was served by a committee of ladies of the Auxiliary of the County Medical Society.

Ludlow Now Under Polio Quarantine

The nearby community of Ludlow with a population of more than 1,000 persons was placed under strict polio quarantine last Friday night which affected every residence and family and also resulted in closing Wildcat Park. County Health officers arranged for the quarantine which will isolate that community for 14 days.

Dr. L. W. Dana, president of the Kane Board of Health stated there has been no change in the polio situation and that reports of another case at Ludlow were not true. He stated he examined a sick child at that place last night but that there were no symptoms of

THERE'S A PLACE FOR YOU ON THIS TEAM!

The Blue Streak, a B-24 Liberator, was one of the greatest bombers that ever climbed into the sky.

She flew 110 missions... 500,000 miles... over Germany, Italy, Roumania, Greece, Austria, Africa, Sicily.

Her air combat crews sank a Nazi freighter off Crete... blew up a tanker at Candia... sent a destroyer to the bottom of Suda Bay.

They shot down 23 German and Italian fighters... dropped half-a-million pounds of bombs... won the Distinguished Unit Badge and countless individual decorations for gallantry in action.

Yet in all her battles in enemy skies, not a man in any of her crews was ever wounded!

Ask her pilot, Maj. Ralph P. Thompson, of Columbus, O., how she managed to roll up such a record, and he'll tell you:

"Because there were no individual stars on her crew. We flew her and fought her as a team... gunners, navigator, bombardier, and pilot, all working together to win.

"And that's the thing any young fellow—who wants to win his wings in the AAF—should keep uppermost in his mind...

"You're on a team in the AAF... from your first day of training until you get up there in action. And it's a team that's never been stopped... that never will be stopped... the 'greatest team in the world!'"

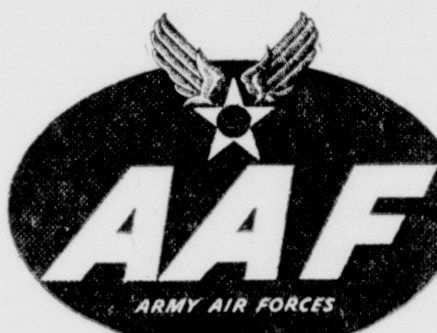

Today, the AAF is writing history.

Liberators and Fortresses are blacking out the skies over Germany. Japan is already beginning to feel the awful power of the Superfortress. Swarms of heavy bombers, medium bombers, light bombers and fighters are spearheading the attack on every front.

Today—more than ever before—there's a place for you on this great AAF team.

If you are 17... if you want action, adventure... the finest, most thorough training any flying man ever had... an opportunity to make a career in aviation after the war...

Then go to your nearest AAF Examining Board and see if you can qualify for the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve... with an opportunity to win your wings as gunner, navigator, bombardier or pilot in the AAF... the "greatest team in the world!"

Woodchuck Burrows Into Mill Race In Chase For Big Carp

If the populace notices any Carnegie medals on the bravery breasts of the Warren coppers, will be because Paul Woodchuck, of Glade drove into the mill race near the carbarns. Paul had been to town in a really big way and when passing the mill race he saw a huge carp. He entreated it in dulcet tones to come to shore but it only shook its head when Paul poised himself a la Speedy, the high diver. There was a splash and then an alarm was sent as the cops to come and do a little fishing for Woodchuck instead of carp. The police got the fellow out of the slime and water and took him to the police station where they ran him through a wringer and spread him on the slats to dry.

And on Friday in spite of the dry spell the coppers were called in to adjust an argument over a spring. Two families who get their supply from a spring had an argument and the water of one family was turned off. The coppers turned the spigot and peace reigned again.

Dogs again gave the boys some anxious moments and one canine was taken to the execution grounds and sent on to the land where all good dogs go. Other dogs howled, one ran loose and the police talked to the boss man of the dogs and the neighbors resumed their gin rummy and interrupted sleep.

Four kiddies who had started for old Irvinedale Park for a picnic did not get home in the scheduled time allotted to them. So search was instituted and the kids were finally located at Shipman's Eddy on the Allegheny river.

One of the patients who had wandered away from the State Hospital was picked up on Redwood street and returned to the institution.

And a woman reported that polio.

Condition of Kenneth Thompson, 11, first victim of infantile paralysis at that place, continued serious today. There still was no confirmation of a polio diagnosis in a suspected case at Johnsonburg.

As result of the Ludlow quarantine, no newspaper deliveries are permitted at that place and for the ensuing two weeks copies will be available only at the George W. Beers store.

FAMED BARGAIN HORSE IS BEING RETIRED

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Turfdom's famed bargain horse, five-year-old Alsab, who earned $350,015 in purses after being purchased as a yearling for $700, has ended his racing career and will retire to stud next spring.

His owner, Albert Sabath, reported that "it was decided not to risk any possibility, however remote, or injury to him or of aggravating the leg injury suffered last year." He will be retired to Alsab Farm at Lexington, Ky.

Alsab's most spectacular feat was his defeat of Whirlaway, the Elder, in two of their three heralded encounters in the fall of 1942.

AMERICANS FATTENING UP

Department of Agriculture estimates that despite war requirements civilians in the U. S. in 1943 consumed 5 per cent to 7 per cent more food than in the pre-war average 1935-39 and only about 2 per cent less than in 1942.

Tough Game is Lost Saturday by Struthers

(From Page Eight) tauqua club a score. From then on, only two errors were committed, one by each side.

Warren failed to score in their half of the second as the Chautauqua boys came through with two tallies. In the third, Struthers accounted for one more. Jewell singled and was driven in with a single by Bob Schussler. The second half of the third was almost a tragedy for the Warren boys. Dave Main, pitching for Struthers, was replaced by Rabbit Swanson, who got the Ironmen out of a bad hole, permitting only one run which then made the score 4-2.

In the fourth Struthers accounted for another as Marlett singled and stole second. Swanson walked, and Vesling was hit by the pitcher. Marlett came home on a wild pitch by the pitcher. Chautauqua evened up the inning with a run driven in by Lefty Pratt, who had a single, two doubles, and a triple as his days average.

Neither club scored in the fifth or sixth, but came the seventh and Jiggs Bonavita connected for a home run to make the count 5-4. Then the lake team connected for two more, which gave them a three run lead.

Hope was renewed in the eighth as Struthers hit away for two more. Lucia doubled, Marlett, Swanson and Vesling singled. The score now read 7-6.

Chautauqua came through in the last half of the ninth with two singles and a double. Then Pratt

Joseph Constable Wins Times-Mirror Scholarship

Joseph Constable, Glade avenue, has been awarded the Times-Mirror Scholarship in Radio Servicing, which he will carry on with the International Correspondence School, of Scranton. The scholarship was recently awarded by A. H. Dunham, of the Warren High School correspondence instructor. Constable was selected by Mr. Dunham from a group of High School students studying Correspondence Instruction. The lucky young man was selected by Mr. Bathurst, principal of the Warren High School and L. C. Johnson, Representative of the ICS who were present when the award was made.

The winner of the award has expressed his keen appreciation to Mr. W. A. Walker, of the Times Publishing Company for this opportunity to broaden his education and for the opportunity for advanced study in his chosen vocation.

stepped in to an intentional pass ball and lambasted a triple up in the right field hills. These three added to the count now made it 10-6. Struthers got two singles in the ninth, but couldn't collect any runs to tie up the ball game.

Baski-Savola Meet Before Sell-out House

(From Page Eight) and Jimmy Bivins, Promoter Jack Kearns had little trouble selling tonight's mix as a heavyweight brawl of significance.

It is the year's rubber meeting between Baski, who recently was named the ranking "outstanding boxer" among the heavies by the National Boxing Association, and 27-year-old Savola, who was rated third by the NBA behind Kaksi and Melio Bettina o. the army.

"Titles can be frozen for the duration," asserted Kearns, who once managed Jack Dempsey. "but the game should be kept alive and these two boys will give the returning top-notchers something to start against when they return."

Struthers Fielder Signs With Hornell

The veteran "Red" Swanson is demonstrating his ability in developing young baseball players in a big way this season. The second member of his Struthers Wells squad has been signed up to play organized ball in the announcement that "Chuck" McLean, hard-hitting outfielder and first baseman has been signed to play with Hornell, of the Pony League.

The president and manager of the Hornell club were at Russell Field Sunday afternoon to watch the local player perform and after the game they made arrangements for him to report to Hornell at Jamestown this evening. It was not stated whether he would have an opportunity to play. McLean bats and throws left-handed and has been a power house with the willow for the Ironworkers.

They are patient about waiting because those Long Distance calls mean so much

A soldier has to line up for a lot of things but we don't like to see him wait too long for a Long Distance call. Would you mind helping a little by saving the wires from seven to ten for the service men?

That's when thousands of soldiers rush to the telephones at the camps and we'd like to give them first call on Long Distance.
